

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

38. Upon the second reading of a bill, the President shall state that it is ready for commitment, amendment or engrossment; and if committed, then the question shall be, whether to a select or standing committee, or to a committee of the whole Senate; if to a committee of the whole Senate, the Senate shall determine on what day; but if the bill be ordered to be engrossed, the Senate shall appoint the day when it shall be read the third time. It shall be in order to read bills on their second reading by title, for reference, and when so referred, it shall be in order for the committee to which they shall be referred, to report on the same with or with-

A message from the House:

MR. PRESIDENT :

I am directed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate of the passage of the following concurrent resolutions :

Resolved by the House, the Senate concurring, that a joint committee of ——— be raised, consisting of five members from the House, and ——— from the Senate, to whom shall be referred, for revision, the joint rules of the two Houses.

Resolved further, That the Rules for the Government of this House be referred, for revision, to the members of said committee from this House.

The Speaker appointed the following members on the part of the House :

Messrs. Howk, Branham, Wolfe, Niblack, and Newman.

The above resolution was concurred in.

Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring therein, That our Senators be instructed, and our Representatives in Congress requested, to cast their votes and use their influence in favor of a law reducing the pay of all commissioned officers in the army of the United States, at least 25 per cent., and raising the pay of all privates at least four dollars per month.

On motion by Mr. Johnson,

The following amendment was agreed to :

Insert before the word "private," the words "non-commissioned officers and."

On motion by Mr. Landers,

The resolution and amendment was referred to the Military Committee :

Mr. Wolfe, from the select committee thereon, made the following report :

MR. PRESIDENT :

The undersigned, a majority of the select committee, to whom were referred the preamble and resolutions introduced by Mr. Browne of Randolph, respectfully report that they have had the subject-matter of said resolutions under consideration, and are of the opinion that the action of the Senate on the material parts thereof, is not necessary or proper at the present time, and we respectfully submit the following reasons for that conclusion :

While it is true that the especial friends of said resolutions disclaim that the object in introducing them, and having them adopted by the Senate, was intended to be a condition precedent upon which the future action of the minority will depend ; yet, it can not be denied that such a construction has generally been placed upon the action of the minority in urging their adoption at this early and unseasonable period of the session. To take definite action, therefore, at this time, and under such circumstances, unless there existed some urgent necessity, would not be compatible with our ideas of independence and self-respect. We deny the right of the minority to exact terms or declarations of intentions in advance of our actions. The duties of a Senator require that he should always be free to act as his judgment shall dictate for the best interest of his constituents, untrammelled by pledges, or by conditions and restrictions, save those contained in the Constitution which he is sworn to support. But there are special reasons for declining to take specific action on the material matters in said resolutions at the present time, which we will briefly state.

As it regards the subject-matter of the first resolution, we know of no disposition or intention on the part of any member of this body, or of the dominant political party in the State, to interfere with the exercise of the rightful powers of the general Government, for the purpose of putting down the rebellion and preserving the national Government under the Constitution ; yet we do not desire to conceal the fact that we are opposed to much of the policy and conduct of the administration in its so-called efforts to accomplish those desirable objects ; and especially are we opposed to the emancipation proclamation, of September the 22d, 1862, and the entire negro policy of the radicals who now, unfortunately, have control of the Government, believing that such policy is calculated to destroy, and not preserve the Union and constitutional liberty. And in proof of these opinions, we refer, with pain, to the deplorable condition of our national affairs, which we believe is the legitimate result of the cause stated. "The Constitution as it is, and the Union as it was," with "the negro where he is," is our motto ; and at the proper time we will probably elaborate our views upon these important subjects, so as to give a full and fair expression of the voice of Indiana upon all the questions connected with the momentous crisis of the country—an expression in accordance with the sentiments of the loyal people of Indiana, as foreshadowed by the ballot-box at the recent elections.

The second resolution we regard as particularly useless and premature. The military conduct of the Governor is a subject of pertinent and necessary inquiry, and that such inquiry ought to be instituted and rigidly prosecuted; and if any abuses are found in that department, they ought to be corrected by proper legislation. At the present time we are not prepared to say what legislation, if any, is needed on that subject. As it regards the “interfering with or circumscribing the Constitutional Military powers of the Executive of the State,” we can say that we have not heard of any intention to attempt such a foolish and impossible thing. The dominant party in this body will not infract the Constitution themselves, or permit others to do so.

The third resolution is obviously a correct rule for the government of the action of the Senate, and we hope the legislation of this session will meet the just expectations of the people in that regard. There never was a time when “rigid economy” was more needed by the tax-ridden people than now.

The fourth resolution will, we hope, be acted upon at the proper time, and that the system of arbitrary arrests will be fully broken up by proper legislation. The Constitutional rights of the citizens must be protected; unlawful seizures must be checked; speedy trials must be secured; the writ of habeas corpus cannot be denied, except as provided by the Constitution and the laws.

The fifth resolution is right, and will be acted upon when the subject is properly brought before the Senate.

The sixth resolution is the enunciation of a duty which we hope no member will undertake to resist or evade. The election of the officers named in said resolution is provided for by the constitution and laws of the State. The people have declared in favor of the dominant party in the Legislature. To thwart their will is a high political crime, which would deserve the reprobation of an indignant people.

We, therefore, recommend that the first resolution be referred to the Committee on Federal Relations; that the second resolution be referred to the Committee on Military Affairs; that the third resolution be referred to the Committee on Finance; that the fourth resolution be referred to the Committee on Rights and Privileges.

that the fifth resolution be referred to a Special Committee on Apportionment, when raised; and that the sixth resolution be adopted.

Respectfully submitted,

S. K. WOLFE,
P. HOAGLAND,
J. D. WILLIAMS,
ARCHIBALD JOHNSON,
THOMAS R. COBB.

Mr. Mansfield, from the same committee, made the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT:

The undersigned minority of the special committee to whom was referred the preamble and resolutions introduced by the Senator from Randolph, beg leave to report that they have had the same under consideration, and that they suggest that said resolutions be amended by adding thereunto as follows:

"7. Resolved, That nothing in the foregoing resolution shall be so construed as to imply an indorsement or a censure of the policy pursued by the President of the United States, or by the Governor of the State of Indiana, but to leave those subjects open to the further consideration of the Senate."

And when so amended they recommend the adoption of the aforesaid resolutions.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN L. MANSFIELD,
J. H. MELLETT,
M. D. WHITE.

On motion, by Mr. Murray,

MR. PRESIDENT :

The House has adopted the following concurring resolution, to-wit:

“Resolved, That a committee of three on the part of this House, and two on the part of the Senate, be appointed to confer with his Excellency, the Governor, and ascertain at what time it will suit his pleasure to deliver his annual message to the General Assembly of the State of Indiana ; and the Speaker has appointed Messrs. Brown, Branham and Niblack, committee on the part of the House.”

Mr. Brown of Wells moved to concur in the House resolution.

The motion was agreed to, and the President makes the committee, on the part of the Senate, to consist of Messrs. Brown of Wells, and Browne of Randolph.

Mr. Browne of Randolph asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. Mellett.

Mr. Cobb offered the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, Disagreements may arise in the present imperiled and calamitous condition of our country as to the best means of restoring to it the former peace, prosperity and happiness which it so long enjoyed ; AND WHEREAS, this Senate, and every member thereof, “banishing all passion and resentment,” and appealing to the higher and loftier sentiments of love of country, do desire, in the presence of imminent danger to our sacred Constitution, to do no act not consistent with the obligations which they owe to the people of Indiana and to the people of the several States comprising the American Union; AND WHEREAS, it is essential to the rightful progress of legislation that a united effort should be made to give force and vigor to those great elemental principles of popular freedom so intimately interwoven with our National and State Constitutions, and so dear to our people everywhere; AND WHEREAS, it is the anxious desire of all loyal citizens that their representatives and servants shall so conduct the public affairs that peace shall be speedily restored, rebellion against the laws suppressed, the Union re-established as it was, the National tax-gatherer withdrawn from the States, the liberty of speech and of the press recognized as the sacred inheritance of freemen, the several Commonwealths again bound together in a union of brotherhood never again to be shaken by the devices of Secessionists or Abolitionists, and our gallant soldiers again allowed to return to their kindred and friends; AND WHEREAS, this great good can only be accomplished by the aid of the several State authorities, acting in concert with a patriotic National Executive and a Congress devoted to the Constitution; therefore,

Resolved, That this Senate, acting for and in behalf of the people of Indiana, regard the maintenance of the Union of the States as of the first importance, and that its members pledge to each other devotion to that sacred task, believing that while that Union exists we have the promise of present and future blessings for our beloved land; and we further declare that we are prepared to aid every department of our State Government in upholding that Union to the extent of our constitutional powers.

Resolved, That we are opposed to all acts of the National Executive which tends to subvert the liberties of the people or to interfere with the rightful powers of the States; and declare, in the language of General Washington, that "it is important that the habits of thinking in a free country should inspire caution, in those intrusted with its administration, to confine themselves within their proper constitutional spheres; avoiding, in the exercise of the powers of one department, to encroach upon another. The spirit of encroachment tends to consolidate the powers of all the departments in one, and thus create, whatever may be the form of government, a real despotism. * * * To preserve [free institutions] must be as necessary as to institute them. But let there be no change by usurpation." We adopt this language of the father of his country, and ask and acknowledge no higher badge of loyalty to our beloved country.

Resolved, That this Senate acknowledges its obligations to aid in defending, supporting, and obeying the Constitution of this State and of the United States, and of upholding the Union made under and by virtue of that Constitution—that, for this purpose, it is prepared to unite with the Executive and other branches of the State Government in every proper measure for these desirable ends; but it is the solemn purpose of this Senate to abdicate none of its powers of legislation, nor to abandon any of its unquestioned rights for giving a full and fair expression of that popular will by which it was invested. It will hear all suggestions for the peaceable compromise of disagreements, but ultimatums, coming from what source they may, must be rejected. In the choice of agencies, for accomplishing the safety of the people and the Union, this Senate must have a voice.

Resolved, That this Senate has witnessed with regret, for many months past, a disposition on the part of the Administration and Congress, to abandon the policy to which it was pledged at the beginning of this unhappy and deplorable civil war—that both the President and Congress have departed from their promises to the nation, and given sad and unmistakable proof that the country has been wronged in the objects for which this war has been conducted. The President declared in his inaugural message (and repeated the same in his annual message in substance) as follows: "I have no purpose, directly or indirectly to interfere with the institution of slavery in the States where it exists. I believe I have no lawful right to do so, and I have no inclination to do so." And the Thirty Sixth Congress, by a unanimous vote, declared, "That neither the Congress of the United States, nor the people or Governments of the non-slaveholding States, have the constitutional right to legislate upon, or interfere with, slavery in any of the slaveholding States of the Union." These sentiments of the President and Congress meet our hearty approval, and all acts in derogation thereof have our mature and decided condemnation.

Resolved, That the pledge of the present Congress, on the 22nd day of July, 1861, in the face of the dangers which threatened the Capitol, "That this war was not waged, on our part, in any spirit of oppression, nor for any purpose of conquest or subjugation, nor for the purpose of overthrowing or interfering with the rights or established institutions of these States, but to defend and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution and to preserve the Union, with all the dignity, equality and rights of the several States unimpaired," brought six hundred thousand men into the field in defense of our sacred institutions; and that it was, in our opinion, "most unjust and ungenerous to give any new character or direction to the war," especially for the accomplishment of any mere party or sectional scheme, and that, so far as this has been done, it meets the unqualified disapproval of this Senate, as it has of the State of Indiana.

Resolved, "That (in the language of John J. Crittenden and the conservative members of the present Congress) the Constitution confers powers adequate to all the purposes of peace or war—that it is the same in war and in peace, on the battle field and in the halls of Congress, and ought to be sacredly observed everywhere—and the presumptuous idea that has been advanced by some of the Abolition leaders in Congress, that the existence of war invests Congress with despotic power, is a pretension as groundless as it is odious, and is to be utterly condemned by every man who has any regard for his own liberty, or for the Constitution of his country."

Resolved, That the frequent arrest and incarceration in prisons of persons resident in this and other States, without warrant or authority of law, and without trial or opportunity to confront their accusers, is a grave offense against the Constitutions of this and neighboring States, and one which calls for a speedy and effective remedy. Whether these wrongs have been perpetrated by National or State authority, makes but little difference; but the remedy is with the law-making power, and that remedy must be asserted. The freedom of speech and of the press belongs to the citizen, and the law, and not the President or Governor, must regulate the abuse of those great agencies in popular discussion. We adopt the language of Daniel Webster, (the great expounder of the Constitution,) and declare: "Important as we deem it to discuss, on all proper occasions, the policy of the measures at present pursued, it is still more important to maintain the right of such discussion to its full extent. Sentiments lately sprung up, and now growing popular, render it necessary to be explicit on this point. It is the ancient and constitutional right of this people to canvass public measures, and the merits of public men. It is a home-bred right, a fire-side privilege. It has ever been enjoyed in every house, cottage and cabin in the nation. It is not to be drawn into controversy. It is as undoubted as the right of breathing the air and walking on the earth. Belonging to private life as a right, it belongs to public life as a duty. * * This high constitutional privilege we will defend and exercise within this House and without this House, and in all places—in time of war, in time of peace, and at all times. Living, we will assert it; dying, we will assert it; and should we leave no other legacy to our children, by the blessing of God we will leave to them the inheritance of free principles, and the example of a manly, independent and constitutional defense of them."

Resolved, That the emancipation proclamation of the President of the United States is, in the opinion of this Senate, an executive usurpation, a measure of great injustice to the nation, and is calculated to bring upon the country the dire calamities of permanent disunion, murder, bloodshed, rapine, and other nameless atrocities, and that the same ought to be promptly withdrawn. We adopt the language of John Quincy Adams, the learned and able statesman, now no more, and declare, "the principle is, that the emancipation of enemies' slaves is not amongst the acts of legitimate war. As relates to the owners, it is a destruction of private property nowhere warranted by the usages of war. * * * * * No such right is acknowledged as a law of war by writers who admit any limitation. The right of putting to death all prisoners of war in cold blood, and without special cause, might as well be represented to be a law of war, or the right to use poisoned weapons, or the right to assassinate."

Resolved, That this war, so long desolating the land, and wasting the blood and treasure of a kindred people, ought to be speedily brought to a close, either by the active overthrow of the rebellion by force of arms, or by the more humane and Christian agencies of compromise and concession; and that we solemnly declare our conviction that one or the other mode must be soon successful, or the nation is undone. The majority of this Senate favored the latter mode of settlement, as the legitimate remedy for sectional passion; but the party in possession of the Government, adopted the war policy, and its experiments have been attended with but little advantage. We suspect that the declaration of Secretary Seward is to be fulfilled, and that war and coercion is not the rightful remedy for our troubles. In his dispatch to Mr. Adams, our Minister to England, under date of April 10, 1861, Mr. Seward said: "For these reasons, he (President Lincoln,) could not be disposed to reject a cardinal dogma of theirs [the seceding States,] namely, that the Federal Government could not reduce the seceding States to obedience by conquest, even though he was disposed to question the proposition. But, in fact, the President willingly accepts it as true. Only an imperial or despotic Government could have the right to subjugate disaffected and insurrectionary States. This Federal Republican system of ours is, of all forms of Government, the very one which is most unfitted for such a labor." This Senate neither controverts nor adopts the theory of Mr. Lincoln and his able Secretary, in regard to the despotism of coercion, nor the inability of the Federal Government to reduce to obedience the seceding States; but it may ask the world to decide, if that theory be true, for what has this carnage and desolation been inaugurated, and for what purpose do these graves open to receive the gallant soldiers of the republic? If it be for any purpose less sacred than the restoration of the Union, then this Senate declares that the war is unworthy the support of a civilized and Christian nation, and must end in the final overthrow of our present form of constitutional Government.

On motion by Mr. Cobb,

The resolutions were referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

OFFICE OF SECRETARY OF STATE, }
Indianapolis, January 13, 1863. }

TO HON. PARIS C. DUNNING,
Speaker of Senate :

DEAR SIR :—In response to the attached resolution, I submit the following as my answer thereto :

Under the third section of the act of the 5th of March, 1859, the Governor was required to have 2,000 copies of the report of the State Board of Agriculture, touching the expenses, &c., of a Geological reconnoissance of the State, printed. Since I came into office, (January 17, 1861,) no such report has ever been made or printed to my knowledge.

Mr. Owen's report to the State Board of Agriculture has been printed and bound in book form by H. H. Dood & Co., as assignees, &c. The printing and publication of this book was directed, as I am informed and believe, by Governor Hammond, and indorsed and approved by Governor Lane. The book contains 360 pages, or thereabouts; is well bound, and I doubt not a very valuable book.

The $5,000 appropriation, in the act of 1859, was exhausted before this report was published, and hence have not felt authorized to receive the book, or certify the claim. I would, however, most respectfully suggest that the General Assembly make the necessary appropriation for the books, and distribute the same to the people of the State.

I am, very truly, &c.,

W. A. PEELLE,

Secretary of State.

N. B.—The copy of the resolution sent me is mislaid, and I cannot accompany it with this answer.

On motion by Mr. Ray,
The communication was referred to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. Hartley offered the following, which was rejected:

Resolved, That the State Librarian be directed to furnish each member of the Senate a copy of Cushing's Manual.

Mr. March offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Auditor of State be requested that, at the earliest possible moment, he furnish, for the use of the Senate, a copy of the report filed in his office of the amount of fees of various County and State officers.

Mr. Wolfe offered the following, which lies over one day under the rules.

Resolved, That the following additional standing rule of the Senate shall be adopted: When a resolution, motion or other matter is offered for the consideration of the Senate, and is ruled out of order, the same shall not appear upon the Journal, unless by the special order of the Senate.

Mr. March introduced a joint resolution :

Senate bill No. 1, Entitled "A joint resolution proposing amendment to article eight, and twenty-third section of article four of the constitution, enabling cities, townships and towns to levy taxes for the support of Common Schools, and so to provide for laws necessary to secure that object;"

Which was read a first time, and passed to a second reading.

Mr. New introduced a bill :

Senate bill No. 6, Entitled "A bill ceding to the United States of America, jurisdiction over certain lands and their appurtenances, in the county of Marion, and exempting the same from taxation;"

Which was read a first time, and passed to a second reading.

Mr. Wilson introduced

Senate bill No. 7. An act to amend sections thirty-three and thirty-five of an act entitled "An act to provide for a general system of Common Schools, the officers thereof, and their respective duties and matters properly connected therewith, and for the establishment and regulation of Township Libraries, and to repeal all laws inconsistent therewith," approved March 11, 1861;

Which was read a first time, and passed to a second reading.

Mr. Browne of Randolph introduced

Senate bill No. 8, entitled an act to repeal an act entitled "An act to provided for the Election, fixing the compensation, and prescribing the duties of Attorney General of the State of Indiana," approved February 21, 1855, and fixing a time when this act shall take effect.

Which was read the first time, and passed to a second reading.

Mr. Browne of Randolph introduced

Senate bill No. 9, Entitled "A bill repealing the tenth section S. J.—5 of an act entitled 'an act to establish courts of conciliation, to prescribe rules and proceedings therein, and compensation of judges thereof,' approved June 11, 1852.

Which was read the first time, and passed to a second reading.

The President directed the Secretary to read the following message from the House :

MR. PRESIDENT:

The House of Representatives has adopted the following concurring resolutions, to-wit :

Resolved, by the House of Representatives, (the Senate concurring,) That the two Houses meet in joint convention in this Hall at 4 o'clock, P. M., or immediately after the election of United States Senators, this day, and proceed to the election of State Agent, President of the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners, State Printer, and State Librarian, in the order in which they are named in this resolution, and respectfully ask the concurrence of the Senate.

MR. PRESIDENT:

The committee of the Senate to report standing rules, report that they have had a conference with a similar committee on the part of the House, in regard to joint rules, and have directed me to report that they have agreed upon the following joint rules :

JOINT RULES

For conducting business in the two Houses of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana.

1. While bills and joint resolutions are on their passage between the two Houses, they shall be on paper, under the signature of their clerks respectively.

2. After a bill or joint resolution shall have passed both Houses, it shall be duly enrolled on paper; and the Clerk of the House where it originated shall indorse upon the back thereof the House in which it originated, under which he shall place his signature.

3. Every bill or joint resolution, after being enrolled, shall be examined by the joint committee of enrolled bills, consisting of three from the Senate and six from the House, appointed as a standing committee for that purpose; one of whom on the part of the Senate and two from the House, shall be sufficient to act, who shall compare the same with the engrossed bill, and correct any errors they may discover, so as to make it agree therewith, and make their report forthwith to their respective Houses.

4. Every bill or joint resolution reported to have been duly enrolled shall be signed, first by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, who shall send the same to the Senate; then by the President of the Senate; after which it shall be presented by the joint committee of enrolled bills to the Governor for his approbation and signature; and the said committee shall report to their respective Houses the day of their presentation, which report shall be entered on the journals of each House.

5. All bills and joint resolutions shall be signed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the President of the Senate, in their Houses respectively, when in session, which shall be carefully noted on the Journals of each House.

6. When any paper or papers, proper to be acted upon by both Houses, shall come before either, the House before which such paper or papers are laid, shall, after acting thereupon, lay it, or them, before the other House.

7. In every case of an amendment of a bill agreed to in one House, and dissented to in the other, if either House shall request a conference, and appoint a committee for that purpose, and the other House shall also appoint a committee to confer, such committee shall, at a convenient hour, to be agreed on by their chairman, meet in the conference chamber, and state to each other, verbally, or in writing, as either shall choose, the reasons of their respective Houses for and against the amendment, and confer freely thereon and report to each House their proceedings thereon. A committee of conference shall consist of two members from each House. After each House shall have adhered to their disagreement, a bill or resolution shall be lost.

8. In all cases where the Sergeant-at-Arms of one House shall, by reason of official engagements or other cause, be unable to execute the commands or process of the House of which he is an officer, it shall be the duty of the Sergeant-at-Arms of the other House, to execute such commands, together with such process, as may be directed to him by the presiding officer thereof.

A Committee on Public Buildings, to consist of three from each House.

A committee on the State Library, to consist of three members from each House.

A Committee on the Canal Fund, to consist of three members from each House.

10. In all elections which require a distinct and separate vote of each House, the voting shall be simultaneous in both Houses. No person shall be deemed to be elected in the proper House, making such separate choice, unless he receives a majority of all the votes given in such House. Each House shall, as soon as a choice may be made on such separate voting, forthwith communicate the same to the other House, and if it shall appear that the Houses have concurred in their choice of any or either of the persons so voted for, such person or persons shall be deemed and declared duly elected. But if the Houses do not concur in their choice of each and all the officers so to be elected, then, in such case, the two Houses shall in like manner forthwith proceed to a second separate choice of the remaining officers so attempted to be elected. But if no concurrence then be had, the two Houses shall, in like manner, proceed to a third separate choice. If the two Houses shall not have concurred in their third separate choice, the two Houses shall proceed to joint vote instantly, for the election of such officer or officers as the two Houses may have failed, for want of concurrence, as aforesaid, to elect.

11. In all joint conventions and meetings of the two Houses, it shall be incompetent for either House, or the members thereof, or the Joint Convention, to engage in the transaction of any business other than that for which they were so specifically assembled.

12. When a message is sent to the Senate or to the House of Representatives, it shall be announced at the door by the Sergeant-at-Arms, or by the Doorkeeper, and shall be respectfully communicated to the Chair, by the person by whom sent.

13. Messages shall be sent by such persons as the President of the Senate or Speaker of the House may designate for that purpose.

14. No bill that shall have passed one House, shall be sent for concurrence to the other, on the last two days of the session.

15. When bills which have passed one House are ordered to be printed in the other, a greater number of copies shall not be printed than may be necessary for the use of the House making the order.

In pursuance of a resolution of the Senate directing the Secretary, Auditor, and Treasurer, and the President of the Board of Commissioners of the Sinking Fund to report to the Senate the amount of fees, perquisites and emoluments of every description, received by them respectively, in the discharge of their official duties, over and above their salaries as fixed by the act in relation to the salaries of public officers, approved March 5, 1859, the undersigned reports that since he has held the office of Treasurer of State he has received, on account of premium on exchange on New York, $960 11, and on account of salary allowed the Treasurer of State, by an act entitled "an act to amend an act to authorize and regulate the business of banking," passed March 3, 1855, $1,308 84. The undersigned has paid into the State Treasury the premium received, viz: $960 11. The other sum, $1,308 84, is retained under a decision of the Supreme Court, lately rendered in the case of John W. Dodd and others against the State of Indiana. The above is all that has been received over and above the salary fixed by the act referred to in the resolution.

OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONERS OF THE SINKING FUND,
Indianapolis, January 16, 1863.

HON. PARIS C. DUNNING,

President of the Senate:

In response to a resolution of the Senate, directed to me, and requiring a statement of "the amount of fees, perquisites, and emoluments," received by my predecessor in office, as well as myself, over and above our respective salaries, as fixed by the act of March 5, 1859, and what amount of such fees, perquisites and emoluments have been paid into the Sinking Fund, I have the honor to state that there are no fees or perquisites attached to the office of President of the Board of the Sinking Fund, beyond the salary fixed by law. The Board of Commissioners has ordered a small fee to be charged to parties who procure substitutions of mortgages to compensate the fund for blanks, and the additional clerical labor occasioned by such substitutions. The total amount received from this source since the act referred to in the resolution of the Senate took effect, is thirty-two dollars, all of which has been paid into, and forms a part of, the Sinking Fund.

There has also been received, since March 15, 1859, of interest on temporary deposits in bank, and for premiums received on gold and Demand Treasury Notes, up to this date, the further sum of eleven thousand five hundred and ninety-two dollars and seventy-seven cents, which has also been paid into, and now forms a part of, the Sinking Fund.

These sums embrace all moneys paid to either myself or my predecessor within the time specified, other than the ordinary income of the Sinking Fund.

OFFICE OF AUDITOR OF STATE, }
Indianapolis, January 19, 1863. }

TO HON. PARIS C. DUNNING,
President of the Senate :

SIR:—In reply to the resolution of the Senate, inquiring whether the taxes levied by the State upon the property of corporations, for common school purposes, have been set aside and distributed as principal or interest of the Common School Fund, I have to state that since the expiration of the charter of the State Bank of Indiana, there has been no specific tax levied upon the property of corporations for common school purposes.

The Legislature of the State heretofore appears to have ignored the constitutional provision that "taxes on the property of corporations, that may be assessed by the General Assembly for common school purposes," shall comprise a part of the Common School Fund, at least I know of no law directing the manner in which the provision alluded to shall be carried out. The neglect has arisen probably from the apprehension that the clause related only to taxes specifically levied, or that its execution was impracticable if applied to taxes assessed under the general levy.

Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

ALBERT LANGE,

Auditor of State.

The President laid before the Senate a communication from the Auditor of State, in response to resolutions of the Senate, concerning salaries and fees, which,

Messrs. Cobb, Downey, Johnson, Mellett and Claypool.

The President laid before the Senate the following:

OFFICE OF TREASURER OF STATE, }
Indianapolis, January 20, 1863. }

In compliance with a resolution of the Senate, passed this day, requesting me to report to the Senate the amount of money paid out by me for war purposes, between the 17th day of April and the 30th day of May, 1861, and from what funds paid, I have the honor to report that there was paid out for war purposes, between the days specified:

Out of the Military Contingent Fund.....	$47,170 83
Out of the Military Fund.....	49,819 96
Out of the State Arms Fund.....	12,232 59
	$109,223 38

I have no means of knowing the precise amount devoted to war purposes out of the above sum of $47,170 83, as the accounts of Contingent Fund proper, and the Military Contingent Fund were blended together.

It is perhaps proper to state, that the Governor afterward paid back into the Treasury, of the money drawn out by himself, $4,125 80, and also, that I was informed by the Auditor of State, shortly after the expiration of the extra session of the Legislature, that he had classified the accounts paid out of the Contingent

Military Fund, and charged them to the several proper funds or appropriations, thereby relieving the Military Contingent Fund of much the larger portion of the claims.

On the first day of June, 1861, in answer to a resolution of the Senate, inquiring what disbursements had been made under the Military Contingent Fund, I reported to that body that I had examined and passed vouchers to the amount of $133,177 78 for the subsistence, clothing, equipment, and transportation of troops raised in this State for State and Federal purposes, from which it would appear that the Military Contingent Fund was exhausted. This report was made from my own books, and not from those of the Auditor of State. Some time afterward I was notified by the Auditor of State, Mr. Lange, that my statement that the fund was exhausted was an error, inasmuch as the vouchers composing the above amount of $133,177 78 had been by him charged to the Military and other proper funds, all of which appeared by an examination of his books, excepting the sum of $20,000, of which sum I had drawn from the Treasury $10,000 as the Governor of the State.

Of this latter amount $6,000 was paid to John H. Vajen, as Quartermaster General of the State, for which he properly accounted by filing in the Auditor's office vouchers and receipts. The remaining $4,000 I deposited in bank, in my official character, for a special purpose, but it not having been required, I returned the money to the Treasury, with the interest which had accrued upon it in bank. The sum of $616 63, alluded to in my former report, as having been paid for telegraphing, was paid by a check, and turned out to have been charged to my private account in bank, leaving the official deposit of $4,000 unbroken. This sum of $616 63 was repaid to me from the Military Fund.

The account herewith presented of disbursements made under the appropriation of $100,000 as a Military Contingent Fund, is a transcript of the Auditor's account charged against that fund, as will appear by reference to the books and vouchers in his office.

I have also the honor to furnish herewith, a detailed statement of the disbursements made under the appropriation at the Extra Session, 1861, of $1,500, for incidental expenses of the Governor's office.

Resolved, by the Senate (the House concurring,) That as the Representatives of the people of the State, we hereby extend their thanks to that noble army of volunteer surgeons and nurses who, with great personal sacrifices to themselves, and with no prospect of future position, power, or aggrandizement accruing to them therefrom, have surrendered themselves to the mission of alleviating the sufferings of Indiana's gallant sons, who, by disease or the casualties of dread war, have been cast upon beds of pain and anguish.

Resolved, That the foregoing resolution be regarded as supple-

A message from the Governor:

STATE OF INDIANA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Indianapolis, February 4, 1863. }

To the General Assembly of the State of Indiana:

Owing to the immense drafts that have been made on the Treasury of the United States, the Government has been unable to promptly pay the troops the wages to which they are entitled. To most of the soldiers four months pay is due, and to many of them six.

I am informed, however, that enough money has recently been furnished to the Pay-Masters to pay all arrearages up to the 1st day of November last, which will still leave due and unpaid, their wages for two months, ending on the 1st day of January.

The failure by the Government to pay the army the money due to it at the period fixed by law for its payment, which is every two months, operates with great hardship upon the wives, children and parents who are dependant upon it for support.

The compensation of the private soldier is small, and if the payment of it be greatly delayed, much suffering must ensue. The brave and generous men who have gone to the field to peril their lives in battle, and endure the hardships of war, should not be allowed to feel that the payment of their scanty compensation is delayed, if there be any means by which delay can be avoided.

The soldier needs money while in camp and on the march, and often suffers greatly in health and comfort for want of it.

The Government, I believe, is doing all in its power to meet its engagements promptly, but the question is whether the State could not, without serious detriment to herself, remove the difficulty so far as the Indiana troops are concerned, by advancing their unpaid wages.

If proper Legislative authority were given, the State could, I have no doubt, borrow of the banks or individuals in Indiana, New York or other places, at legal interest, enough money for the purpose, and an arrangement could be made with the Secretary of the Treasury, by which the amount advanced should be refunded to the State by the United States, whenever the Government was able to pay the same to the troops, if they had not been paid by the State.

The State would be re-imbursed for her expenditures probably every sixty or ninety days, and the interest paid upon the loans would be trifling, compared with the amount of good that would be accomplished, and the interest would no doubt be refunded by the Government.

The plan for doing it, I would briefly suggest as follows:—Let the officers and soldiers, in proper form, assign the pay due them to the Treasurer of the State, with a direction in the assignment to whom the money should be paid by the State. If the money is to be paid to the family or friends of the officer or soldier, living in the State, it can be done through the Treasurer of the county in which such persons live. If the money is to be sent to the soldier in the field, it can be done by Federal Pay-masters under an arrangement with the Pay-master General at Washington, or if it be preferred, the money can remain in the State Treasury, as a deposit, subject to the order, at any time, of the person entitled to draw it.

Upon the pay-rolls thus assigned to the Treasurer of the State, he can, from time to time, settle with the United States, and receive back the monies advanced.

The measure proposed has several important advantages :

First. By the prompt payment of the troops, a prolific source of discontent and desertion is removed.

Secondly. Officers and men are enabled to provide for their own necessities in the field, and for the support of their families and dependent ones at home.

Thirdly. By the plan proposed of paying through the County Treasurers, families and dependent ones at home will receive a large amount which would never reach them, even though it were promptly paid to those entitled while they were in the field.

Fourthly. Much money would be held in trust, as a deposit in the State Treasury, which, if paid to the soldiers in the field, would be squandered or lost.

The recommendation is not intended to be confined to pay now in arrear, but to apply in the future, when the Government is unable to promptly meet its engagements with the army.

Should the plan suggested not be deemed feasible or the best, I will cheerfully co-operate with you in the adoption of any other, by which the main purpose, the prompt payment of Indiana troops, can be accomplished.

I would respectfully invite your early consideration on this subject.

O. P. MORTON,
Governor of Indiana.

On motion by Mr. Claypool,
The communication was referred to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. Hartley introduced

REPORTS.

Mr. Wilson, chairman of the Committee on Banks, submitted the following:

MR. PRESIDENT:

The majority of the Committee on Banks, to whom was referred the memorial of D. R. Martin, would respectfully beg leave to submit the following report:

1. It appears from the evidence before said committee, that Ebzey G. Burkham now is, and has been for the most of the time since the organization of the same, the President of the Lawrenceburg Branch of the Bank of the State of Indiana, and for at least the last eighteen months said Burkham has not been a citizen of the State of Indiana, which is in direct violation of the 66th section of the charter.

2. That it further appears that the capital stock of said branch is $200,000, of which the said Burkham owns $133,500, and his two sons own $19,950, making in all $153,450; that by the amount of stock he owns, he is enabled to, and does, elect and control the Directory of said Branch.

3. That the said E. G. Burkham, and sons, have had, until very recently, a banking house in the city of Chicago, Illinois, and E. G. Burkham & Co., of which said Burkham is senior member, have a banking house in Cincinnati, Ohio; that the monthly report of the Cashier of said Lawrenceburg branch show that said E. G. Burkham, Sons, and E. G. Burkham & Co., have had for a year and more past, in their hands and for their own private benefit, in the cities of Chicago and Cincinnati, a large portion of the assets of said Lawrenceburg Branch; said reports show as follows:

February, 1862, E. G. Burkham & Co., Cincinnati..	$127,805 88
E. G. Burkham, Sons, Chicago....	125,000 00
Total for February, 1862.....	$252,805 88
April, 1862, E. G. Burkham & Co., Cincinnati.....	$119,711 23
E. G. Burkham, Sons, Chicago.....	112,490 37
Total for April, 1862.....	$230,201 60
June, 1862, E. G. Burkham & Co., Cincinnati.....	$103,723 70
E. G. Burkham, Sons, Chicago.....	169,761 60
Total for June, 1862.....	$273,485 30
August, 1862, E. G. Burkham & Co., Cincinnati...	$249,979 39
E. G. Burkham, Sons, Chicago.....	169,758 85
Total for August, 1862.....	$419,738 24
October, 1862, E. G. Burkham & Co., Cincinnati..	$241,730 90
E. G. Burkham, Sons, Chicago.....	236,259 35
Total for October, 1862.....	$477,990 25

December, 1862, E. G. Burkham & Co., Cincinnati.	$246,387 90
E. G. Burkham, Sons, Chicago...	238,133 07

Total for December, 1862. $484,520 97

January, 1863, E. G. Burkham & Co., Cincinnati...	$456,593 39
E. G. Burkham, Sons, Chicago.....	None.

Total for January, 1863. $456,593 39

4. It also appears from the evidence, that up to January, 1861, said branch made regular semi-annual dividends of five per cent., but made no dividend in July, 1861, and only a semi-annual dividend of three per cent. in July, 1862, and January, 1863.

5. The said monthly reports also show that the discounts of said branch, on notes and bills of exchange, have been very small for the past year, and on the 31st of January, 1863, were only $14,409 76, whilst the notes of said branch in circulation were $397,947 00, thus showing that the banking districts which said branch was created by the charter to subserve, has derived no benefit therefrom, and that the assets of the said branch have been diverted from their legitimate field and carried to Ohio and Illinois, and there used to answer the private emolument of its President, E. G. Burkham. This we regard as a violation of the spirit, if not the letter, of the charter.

6. We find that the memorialist, who is a stockholder in said branch to the amount of $10,000, has applied to the Board of Directors of the Bank of the State of Indiana for redress, and has been answered by said Board that they had no power to grant him any relief.

The majority think it the duty of this General Assembly, in pursuance of the 23d section of the charter of the Bank of the State, to appoint an agent to examine into the condition of said Bank, and particularly the Lawrenceburg Branch thereof, who shall report to the General Assembly at its present session, that said Assembly may take such action as may be expedient and proper. They therefore respectfully recommend the adoption of the accompanying joint resolution.

The report was concurred in, and the joint resolution read a first time.

Bearss, have, since their election as Senators, been appointed and have discharged the duties of Enrolling or Drafting Commissioners; and inquiring whether said Senators have vacated their seats in this body by the acceptance of said position, would respectfully report that they have had the same under consideration, and a majority thereof have directed me to report the following as their views upon the subject:

The Constitution of the State (Art. 2, Sec. 9,) provides that "No person holding a lucrative office or appointment under the United States, or under this State, shall be eligible to a seat in the General Assembly; nor shall any person hold more than one lucrative office at the same time, except, as in this Constitution expressly permitted:

Provided, That officers in the militia, to which there is attached no annual salary, and the office of deputy post-master, where the compensation does not exceed ninety dollars per annum, shall not be deemed lucrative."

The only material questions in the case are:

1st. Is the position of Enrolling or Drafting Commissioner an office in the meaning of this provision of the Constitution; and, if so,

2nd. Does it, or not, fall within the exception, or proviso, by being an office "in the militia to which there is attached no annual salary?"

As to the first question, we are of the opinion that the position of Enrolling or Drafting Commissioner does not fall properly within the definition of an office; but is rather in the nature of an agency or employment. The distinction between an office and an official agency is seen clearly when we inquire as to whose act it is when it is performed. An officer's act is his own; what an official agent does is the act of his principal. There is also a distinction in the creation of an office and an agency. An office must be created, and the officer appointed, by law, or by some officer who has express legal authority to do so. An official agency may be created, and the agent appointed, without such express legal authority. Such a power is an incident to all executive and ministerial offices, and probably, or at least to a certain extent, to judicial offices also. A sheriff has the right to appoint a private citizen his agent to execute a writ; a clerk has the right to employ a private citizen to enter up his records; a Governor has the right to appoint agents to make examinations of records, or the like, and to do generally what he lacks the time, disposition or ability to do. But all such acts are the acts of the principal.

These Commissioners were appointed by the Governor, and their character, as to whether they were agents or officers, depends not upon the nature of the duties they were to perform; not upon the duration of their service; but upon the question whether or not the Governor had the power to appoint them as officers.

They were appointed by him to carry out certain regulations and orders of the War Department, made in pursuance of an act of Congress. These regulations and orders, and the law of Congress under which they were made, taken in connection with the powers, rights and prerogatives of the Governor of a sovereign State, amount only to a requisition upon the State to furnish for the Federal service a designated number of militia men. And in the absence of any State law on the subject, providing the manner of their enrollment and draft, it was the Governor's duty, if anybody's, to enroll and draft them himself, personally, or cause it to be done by his agents. Whatever functions these Commissioners exercised was solely by virtue of the authority derived from the Governor. And the Governor having no legal power to constitute them officers, they were only his agents. If they were not agents they had no legal status whatever, and all their acts are mere nullities.

What powers the Federal Government would have in such cases, if the Governor would refuse to act, is a question not involved in this case; as these Commissioners were not appointed by the Federal Government, nor by the Governor, in pursuance of Federal authority. The Governor could not exercise such a power by virtue of Federal authority, without, himself, becoming a Federal officer. If the Governor derived the power in question from the Federal Government, he became a Federal officer, and, by discharging its duties, he exercised the functions of "an office under the United States," which is in direct violation of article five, section eight, of the Constitution, which says:

"No member of Congress, or person holding any office under the United States, shall fill the office of Governor, or Lieutenant-Governor."

Then, it is clear that the Governor did not derive his authority from the Federal Government; or, if he did, and he exercised it he thereby rendered himself incapable to "fill the office of Governor." To avoid this difficulty, it can not be said that the Federal authority only made the Governor an agent. If the Governor was only an agent, then, with a stronger reason, it may be said his appointees were only agents. An agent may appoint a sub-agent, but he can not create an office or appoint an officer. Such acts can only be done by law or by an officer who has legal authority.

It seems clear, therefore, that the Governor had no authority, either State or Federal, to either create the office or appoint the officers to fill them, and hence, such appointees were not officers, either Federal or State, civil or military; but only agents to perform a certain work, which, of necessity, devolved upon the Governor, in the absence of the proper officers, or the legal power to appoint them.

Upon the other question presented, we are clearly of the opinion that the position of Enrolling or Drafting Commissioner, whether it was an office or an agency, was "in the militia, to which there is attached no annual salary," and, therefore, falls within the exception or proviso of the Constitution, which says such offices "shall not be deemed lucrative," and hence, do not disqualify a person from holding another at the same time.

The only point that admits of any discussion upon this branch of the subject, is in regard to the meaning of the language—"in the militia." It is urged by the objectors to the opinion we have expressed, that, while the office or agency in question, was connected with the militia, it was not properly, and in the meaning of the Constitution, an office in the militia. This distinction is extremely subtle, and partakes too much of the hair-splitting character of the special pleadings of the old English courts, or of the quibbles of a "Constitution-made lawyer," to be received with favor in the decision of a question of the dignity and importance of the one before us. The only public offices known in the country are either in the civil, military or naval service. All military officers are either in the regular, volunteer or militia service. An office, the duties of which are exclusively "connected with" one or the other of these services, is an office "in" that service, or else it is not in any service. Can it be said that an office, the duties of which are exclusively connected with the militia service, is in any sense, or in any degree, a civil office? If such an office is not in the militia, why is any office in the militia? It certainly will not be insisted that every officer in the militia must have a feather in his cap, and have a title of rank prefixed to his name.

It seems to us that the obvious spirit and meaning of the constitutional proviso is, that an office, the duties of which relate exclusively to, or are connected exclusively with the militia, is an office "in the militia." Any other interpretation would permit the mere words to defeat the obvious intention and spirit of the enactment. Such a rule of interpretation is not admitted in any case.

But if it be assumed that none of these positions are well taken or established, it does not, therefore, follow that the seats of the Senators in question ought to be declared vacant. A sitting member is entitled to hold his seat by virtue of a certificate of election, right upon its face, until it is clearly shown that the right to oust him exists. The right to oust must be affirmatively shown. The title to an office is not unlike the title to any thing else. The possessor's right is maintained until it is successfully overthrown. This, to say the least, has not been done in this case.

We, therefore, recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That Honorables Joshua H. Mellett, Abraham Teegarden, Martin M. Ray, and Daniel R. Bearss, are entitled to hold their seats as Senators on this floor.

S. K. WOLFE,
On behalf of the majority.

Mr. Landers, from the same committee, made the following minority report:

MR. PRESIDENT:

The undersigned, a minority of the Committee on Elections, to whom was referred the preamble and resolution, which was in these words:

"WHEREAS, It is said that the Senator from Henry, Hon. Joshua H. Mellet; the Senator from Laporte, Hon. A. Teegarden; the Senator from Shelby, Hon. Martin M. Ray, and the Senator from Miami, Hon. David R. Bearss; have, since their election as Senators, been appointed and discharged the duties of Enrolling or Drafting Commissioners for their respective counties; therefore, Resolved, That the Committee on Elections be instructed to inquire and report to this Senate, whether the Senators aforesaid have vacated their seats in this Senate, by the acceptance of the position of Enrolling or Drafting Commissioners as aforesaid;" have had the same under consideration, and beg leave to report:

That the office of Enrolling and Drafting Commissioner, was established in pursuance of the Act of Congress, and rules and orders herein set forth, to-wit: "Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That whenever the President of the United States shall call forth the militia of the States to be employed in the service of the United States, he may specify in his call the period for which such service will be required, not exceeding nine months; and the militia so called, shall be mustered in, and continue to serve, for and during the term so specified, unless sooner discharged by command of the President. If by reason of defect in existing laws, or in the execution of them in the several States, or any of them, it shall be found necessary for enrolling the militia, and otherwise putting this act in execution, the President is authorized, in such cases, to make all necessary rules and regulations; and the enrollment shall, in all cases, include all the able-bodied male citizens between the ages of eighteen and forty-five, and shall be apportioned among the States according to the representative population."—Acts of Congress, approved July 17, 1862.

ately called into the service of the United States, to serve for nine months, unless sooner discharged.

"EDWIN M. STANTON,

Secretary of War.

"GENERAL ORDERS, }
"No. 99. }

WAR DEPARTMENT,
Adjutant General's Office,
Washington, August 9, 1862.

"Regulations for the Enrollment and Draft of Three Hundred Thousand Militia.

"In pursuance of an order of the President of the United States, bearing date August 4, 1862, whereby is provided that a draft of three hundred thousand militia be immediately called into the service of the United States, to serve for nine months unless sooner discharged, and that the Secretary of War shall assign the quotas to the States, and establish regulations for the draft; also, that if any State shall not, by the 15th of August, furnish its quota of the additional three hundred thousand volunteers authorized by law, the deficiency of volunteers in that State shall also be made up by a special draft from the militia, and that the Secretary of War shall establish regulations for this purpose:

"It is ordered * * * * *

Third: The Governors of the respective States will cause an enrollment to be made forthwith, by the Assessors of the several counties, or by any other officers to be appointed by such Governors, of all able-bodied male citizens between the ages of eighteen and forty-five, within the respective counties, giving the name, age, and occupation of each, together with remarks showing whether he is in the service of the United States, and in what capacity, and any other facts which may determine his exemption from military duty. All reasonable and proper expenses of such enrollment, and of the draft hereinafter provided, will be reimbursed by the United States, upon vouchers showing the detailed statement of service performed and expenses incurred, to be approved by such Governors. * * * * *

"2. The Governors of the several States shall appoint a commissioner from each county of their respective States, whose duty it shall be to superintend the drafting, and hear and determine the excuses of persons claiming to be exempt from military duty. Such commissioner shall receive a compensation of four dollars per diem, for each day he may be actually employed in the discharge of his duties, as such commissioner.

"3. The enrolling officer shall immediately, upon the filing of the enrollment lists, notify said commissioner that said lists have been so filed, and the commissioner shall, thereupon, give notice by handbills posted in each township of his county, of the time and place at which claims of exemption will be received and determined by him, and shall fix the time to be specified in the order aforesaid, within ten days of the filing of the enrollment at which the draft shall be made; and all persons claiming to be exempt from military duty, shall, before the day fixed for the draft, make proof of such exemption before said commissioner, and if found sufficient, his name shall be stricken from the list by a red line drawn through it, leaving it still legible. * * * *

Our State Constitution, section nine, article two, ordains: "No person holding a lucrative office or appointment under the United States, or under this State, shall be eligible to a seat in the General Assembly, nor shall any person hold more than one lucrative office at the same time, except, as in this Constitution expressly permitted. Provided, that officers in the militia, to which there is attached no annual salary, &c., shall not be deemed lucrative, &c.,

Is the office of Enrolling and Drafting Commissioner, as provided for in the Act of Congress and regulations quoted, a lucrative office within the meaning of the Constitution?

First. Is it an office or appointment?

Second. Is it a lucrative one?

First. Technical words and phrases having a peculiar and appropriate meaning in law, are to be understood according to that meaning and legal definition. All courts declare that it will be presumed that the law-making power used such words in that manner unless such a construction is clearly repugnant. Then, that being presumed, we will endeavor to ascertain the legal meaning of the words "office" and "appointment" as used in the Constitution.

Bouvier, Kent and Cruise, and we might cite many other authorities to the same point, all agree and define "office" to consist in "a right and corresponding duty to execute a public function, trust or employment, and to take the fees and emoluments belonging to it."

Chief Justice Marshall, 2d Marshall's Reports, p. 96, inquires: "Is the Agent of Fortifications an officer of the United States?" and says, "An office is defined to be a public charge or employment, and he who performs the duties of an office is an officer. If employed on the part of the United States, he is an officer of the United States. Although an office is an employment, it does not follow that every employment is an office. A man may certainly be employed under contract, express or implied, to do an act or perform a service, without becoming an officer. But if a duty be a continuing one, which is defined by rules prescribed by the Government, and not by contract, which an individual is appointed by Government to perform, who enters on the duties appertaining to his station, without any contract defining them, if those duties continue, though the person be changed, it seems very difficult to distinguish such a charge or employment from an office, or the person who performs the duties from an officer." (The above case will also be found in 2d Brockenbrough, same page.)

In examining this case, it will be seen that the important features therein were very similar to, and that the office of agent of fortifications was established in the same manner, that the position of Enrolling and Drafting Commissioner was.

An Act of Congress was passed, making appropriations for the erection of fortifications, and without providing in detail for all the objects of the bill, it empowered the Secretary of War, with the approval of the President, to make the necessary rules and regulations relative to and carrying out its objects, &c. The Secretary of War did so establish the office of agent of fortifications. The court held the office established by law; that the rules and regulations of the Secretary of War, made in pursuance of that Act, were of equal dignity with and had the sanction of law. By reference to the reports of the Federal courts, it will be seen in almost every volume, some decision that treats these rules and regulations, not only of the War Department, but of the other heads of department, in the same light, having the same force, power, and effect of the Acts of Congress, in pursuance of which they are established. See 7 Peters 14; 13 Ib., 512-15; Ib., 336-358, and 17 Ib., 291. Gratiot v. United States, 6 Howard Reports.

It will be observed in General Orders No. 99 above, that the Secretary required the appointment of two persons in each county, one to enroll the militia, designated in several places as officers, and the other to superintend the drafting, &c., with all the requisites of an officer, that is, duties defined and compensation affixed.

In this State, however, the duties of both positions were performed by one person. As the rules and regulations of the War Department, relative to these positions, and the duties of such persons, are of equal dignity with, and have the sanction of law, we must therefore conclude that the duties performed by these Enrolling and Drafting Commissioners were not "performed under contract express or implied," but were "defined by rules prescribed by the Government," as Chief Justice Marshall says above.

If they were not performed by contract, were the duties a public function, charge, or employment? They were ordered to be performed by the Federal Government, by virtue of a public law, for a general purpose, and for that Government, and was not a private enterprise or private employment by these appointees. In 7 Richardson, p. 381, in determining whether or not a jailor, appointed by and holding at the will of the sheriff, was a public officer, the court held that he was, and said: "The mode of appointment enters not into the essentials of an office, nor does the duration;" and quotes from Lord Coke to-wit: "Every man is a public officer who hath any duty concerning the public, and he is no less a public officer whose authority is confined to narrow limits, because it is the duty of his office and the nature of that duty which makes him a public officer, and not the extent of his authority." In 79 Eng. Com. Law R., 149, the court held that the clerk of the Board of Guardians for the poor, who received his appointment from, and whose duties were prescribed by that Board, was a public officer, and the learned judge held this language in reference to the duties being public: "And, as the exercise of them materially affects the great body of persons, I think they are so, whether the district for which it is exercised be a parish, or a hundred, or several parishes in a union, appears to form no ground of distinction, if it be an office in which the people have an interest."

It has been claimed in the argument of these questions before the Senate, that the duties performed by these parties were to have been performed by the Governors of the several States, and that he appointed them only to act in his stead, and, consequently, were merely agents of the Executive. This position is clearly untenable, as will be seen by reference to orders of the Secretary of War; the duties of the several Executives were clearly defined, they having only the power to cause the assessors, or other officers, to be appointed by such Governors to enroll the militia, and to appoint a commissioner in each county to superintend the drafting. The duties of the Executives and the commissioners are clearly and distinctly defined and separated.

It is also claimed that these positions were of Executive appointment to discharge a special duty, such as purchasing arms and the sending of surgeons or nurses, by the Governor, to take care of sick and wounded soldiers. The distinction is this: one performs the duties, as Chief Justice Marshall says, "by virtue of rules prescribed by the Government, or in accordance with some law; the other performs the service by contract, express or implied, and is the personal agent of, and responsible only to, the officer requiring the service, and doing that which the Governor should do himself. If, however, the person buying the arms, or acting as surgeon or nurse, be appointed in pursuance of a law, and that law also defines their duty, and that duty is for the Government, then such person also becomes an officer within the legal meaning of the word. And the fact that the duty to be performed consists in a single act, or variety of acts, to be completed in a definite period of time, cannot change the character of the person performing them, should they prove a public employment, and defined by rules prescribed by the Government."

There are three kinds of officers: one, the duties of which are the performance of specific services in a time certain; the second, within an indefinite period of time which will arrive; and the third, which are presumed to be perpetual or co-existent with the Government. We will name a few: officers in the volunteer service, some serving three months, and others three years; officers in the militia, serving nine months; Agent of State; sail makers in the navy yard at Washington; Governors, and other officials in territories, appointed by the President, &c.; all of which are, in the strictest sense, officers, and have been so decided.

The case of Branham vs. Lange, Auditor, in 16 Ind., has been referred to. The distinction between that case and the present one is this: the position or office of Enrolling and Drafting Commissioner was first established. No particular person or persons were designated in the law or regulations, who should perform the service. Any person may have been an incumbent, and if the first or other person selected would not accept, or would fail in whole or in part to discharge the duties, or had resigned or died, the office continued—the duties had to be discharged—and some other person would have been selected and appointed, who would discharge them.

That of the Auditing Committee was different in every particular mentioned above.

The duties to be performed were by law, (which was for a temporary purpose,) specially deputed to those three persons, and no other individuals, save those three, could by the act have discharged the service therein mentioned. And if those three had not consented to, or had failed to discharge the duties, had died or resigned, as is expressly stated in that decision, no other person or persons could have been appointed, or discharged the service. No provision, as the court says, was made for such vacancies or contingencies, and was not intended to be an office, as the court very properly decided. The illustrations given in that case very clearly demonstrate the distinction, and the language of Chief Justice Marshall, supra, “but if a duty be a continuing one,” and “if those duties continue, though the person be changed,” is also very applicable in showing the difference in the two cases.

We, therefore, conclude that the position of Enrolling and Drafting Commissioner of the militia is an office within the meaning of the Constitution.

Concluding as we do, it becomes unnecessary to show whether or not the words “office” and “appointment” are used synonymously in the Constitution. However, Bouvier defines “appointment” to be “the act by which a person is selected and invested with an office; and by appointment is also understood a public employment, nearly synonymous with office. The distinction is this—the term appointment is of a more extensive signification than office.”

2d. Is it a lucrative office?

The Supreme Court of this State, 8 Blackf. 329, in determining the offices of county commissioner and county recorder lucrative, under the old Constitution, held this language: “Pay—supposed to be an adequate compensation, is affixed to the performance of their duties. The lucrativeness of an office—its net profits—does not depend upon the amount of compensation affixed to it.” County commissioners then received two dollars per day, just one-half the compensation Enrolling and Drafting Commissioners now receive. The same court, in 14 Ind. R. 142, quotes the above approvingly, and by the same test adjudges the offices of township trustee (under the system of three in a township), and supervisors of the highways, to be lucrative, within the meaning of the present Constitution.

Consequently, if we apply the same rule, the office in question is also lucrative, unless the proviso therein—i. e., "That offices in the militia, to which there is attached no annual salary," &c, exempts it from that position.

By showing that the office in question is a Federal office, emanating from Federal authority, the duties of which were ordered by, and for the benefit of, the Federal Government, and the compensation of these officers were to be paid by that Government, it will be evident that the office was not one in the militia of this State. The services performed by these officers were not had by virtue of any law of this State. It may be true that, in the absence of any statute, the Governor, by virtue of his office as commander-in-chief of the militia, may appoint similar officers for the purpose of enrolling and drafting the militia. But the militia thus called out by him can only be used for three purposes: that is, to repel invasion, suppress rebellion in this State, and for the purpose of enforcing the laws of this State. Such was not the purpose in drafting the militia in 1862. The avowed and open purpose was to place them in the services of the United States, to suppress the rebellion in the Southern States and outside the limits of this State.

By reference to the Federal Constitution, we find that Congress has power "to provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrections, and repel invasions. To provide for organizing, arming and disciplining the militia, and for governing such part of them as may be employed in the service of the United States, reserving to the States respectively the appointment of the officers, and the authority of training the militia, according to the discipline prescribed by Congress."

Thus it will be seen that the Federal Government has the exclusive power of organizing and controlling the militia, in every particular, save only the appointment of officers.

And as Congress has provided for calling forth the militia of the States, as we have seen, and as there is no law authorizing the same to be done in this State, it will be presumed that the duties performed by, and the appointment of, the officers in question, were had by virtue of that Act of Congress, especially when we see that no other authority could have ordered it. Upon this point, there need not anything further be said, for the Governor, in his message, shows that the drafting was not had by any law of this State, but that "it was made under the first section of the Act of Congress of July 17, 1862," and "was conducted throughout the United States by Assistant Adjutant General Buckingham." The Governor, acting under the authority of that Act and the regulations made in pursuance thereof, in appointing these officers, did so for the President, and their appointment thereby became the act of the President. In 13 Peters, 512, it is shown that, at the request of the Secretary of War, the Commissioner of the General Land Office marked upon a map, a section as reserved for military purposes—the law of Congress required the President to make the reservation—the court said, "that the President speaks and acts through the heads of the proper departments," and held "that the act of the War Department, requiring this reservation to be made, as being, in legal contemplation, the act of the President; that it was made by order of the President, within the terms of the Act of Congress."

That these persons were not officers in the militia, is clearly shown by their commissions; had they been appointed in the militia of this State, their commissions would be for the term of six years, as provided by statute; and if in the militia called forth by the Act of Congress, their term of service would have been for nine months. Their duty was to assist in organizing the militia, over which Congress has the exclusive power. And when the militia was completely organized, and ready to receive the officers in the militia, their authority ceased. The militia drafted in this State were placed in old regiments, and companies already officered, and there was no separate organization of the militia, and consequently there were no officers in the militia appointed or needed.

To claim that these commissioners are officers in the militia would be as preposterous as claiming that the county treasurer is an officer in the circuit court, simply because he may assist in selecting the petit jurors of that Court; or a person appointed to organize a corporation is an officer in that corporation, while it has no existence. We, therefore, conclude that the office of Enrolling and Drafting Commissioner is lucrative, and does not come within the first proviso of the section of the Constitution quoted.

The only question remaining is this:

Can a person hold the office of Senator and another lucrative office at the same time? To hold an office, requires something to be done on the part of the person selected; the mere election or appointment is not sufficient to invest such a person with an office. He must signify his acceptance of the same by some act of his. The Constitution of our State, Art. 15, Sec. 4, requires a certain oath or affirmation to be first taken, and this must be a voluntary act of the person; after this has been done, the person becomes an officer, or, in the language of the Constitution, "holds" the office, and, of course, from that moment, continues as such for the term appointed.

We are of the opinion that a person may hold an office or appointment from the time of his election as a member of the General Assembly, until he attempts to take a seat in the Legislature, for the reason above stated, that a person can not be compelled to take such an office against his will; he may not accept or take the necessary oath; but once having accepted the office by voluntarily qualifying thereto, he can not afterward, and before his time expires, hold another lucrative office without vacating the first.

Such seems to have been the intention of the framers of the Constitution, and such has been the prevailing rule in the United States Congress.

We are, therefore, of the opinion that those Senators who were elected in the year 1860, and subsequently took the necessary oath and discharged the duties of their office, and afterward, in 1862, accepted the office of Enrolling and Drafting Commissioners of the militia, and discharged the duties of such, vacated the office of Senator, which they were then holding.

We have sought, through the argument of the majority of the committee, in vain for some substantial reason for the conclusions to which they have arrived.

In one part of the report, it is contended that the office of Enrolling and Drafting Commissioner is no office at all; nothing but an agency to do and perform certain acts, which the Governor would otherwise be compelled personally to perform. The absurdity of this proposition is seen in its statement. What work performed by those officials could the Governor have performed himself? Could he have personally enrolled the militia? Could he have examined persons claiming to be exempt. Could he have conducted the draft? Certainly not. As well might it be claimed that the office of Adjutant General was an agency.

Again, it is asserted that if the Governor appointed these persons to the offices in question, then, in doing so, he assumed to act as a Federal officer, and thereby vacated his office as Governor. In the case of Prigg v. The State of Pennsylvania, it was held by the Supreme Courts of the United States, that a State officer might exercise powers conferred by Act of Congress or not, at his option, and it did not thereby change his official character.

So, by Act of Congress, the judges of the State courts are authorized to hear criminal charges, for violations of the laws of the United States, and commit, discharge, or let to bail, as the facts of the case may warrant. Do they, by acting under those laws, become Federal judges, and vacate their offices as State judges? Such is the argument of the majority report, but it will be seen, at once, that is untenable.

After an attempt to demonstrate that the office of Enrolling and Drafting Commissioner is no office, the report of the majority proceeds to demonstrate that it is an office, but that it is "in the militia of this State," to which no salary is attached.

This question has already been considered, and it is enough to say, that whilst we admit that all offices may be classed either as civil or military, it does not follow that an office connected with the military is "in the militia." Officers whose duties are preliminary to the organization of the militia, are no more officers "in the militia," than are officers appointed to organize a corporation, officers in the corporation. There can be no officers in that which has no organized existence.

We are, therefore, of opinion that the following resolution ought to be adopted:

Resolved, That any Senator who has, since his election and qualification to said office, accepted the office of Enrolling or Drafting Commissioner, is ineligible to a seat in this house.

Mr. Ray submitted the following protest, which was ordered to be spread upon the Journal.

MR. PRESIDENT:

During the present session of the Senate I have witnessed with regret the action of the Senate in granting leave of absence to members to leave the capital and their seats in this hall to return to their homes to attend to their private business, leaving the Senate for many days without a quorum to do legislative business. He has likewise witnessed with regret the repeated adjournments extending from Saturday forenoon to Monday afternoon. He has also witnessed with regret the liberty that members of this body take in absenting themselves from their seats for days without leave of the Senate—all of which has been done contrary to his convictions of public duty, and against his opposition, expressed by votes and otherwise.

And inasmuch as the session is more than half expired, without any adequate fruits of legislative industry; and inasmuch as the Democratic Party will be held measurably responsible for the aforesaid grievances; and inasmuch as the Senate, on this day, has granted leave of absence for several days to the Senators from Miami, from Clinton, and from Bartholomew, against the vote of the undersigned; therefore, he protested and does now protest against all and several the above enumerated grievances; against any repetition or continuance of the same, as impeding legislation by an abandonment of public duty, as injustice to those that remain by throwing upon them the responsibility of all legislation, as a reproach to the Democracy, by leaving them to vindicate in the future a line of policy which no one can approve or defend in the present.

He asks this protest to be spread on the Journal of the Senate.

M. M. RAY,

The protest was also signed by

PARIS C. DUNNING,
S. K. WOLFE,
A. J. DOUGLASS,

Whereas, on the 20th day of September, 1852, the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 13, in township 29, north of range 5, west, in Jasper county, Indiana, was sold to John B. Redd, as a part of the swamp lands of the State for fifty dollars, and the certificate of the Auditor of State of that date, was issued to said Redd, reciting the above fact, and stating said land would be patented to the said Redd as soon after its confirmation to the State of Indiana as practicable, and if not confirmed, that said money would be refunded to said purchaser or his assigns; and whereas, said land has never been confirmed to the State of Indiana, but on the contrary had been located by Solomon Sturges, with a military land warrant previous to the conveyance of swamp lands to the State of Indiana by the United States; and whereas, there is no law authorizing the refunding said money to said Redd; therefore,

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, That the Auditor of State be directed to draw his warrant on the Treasurer of State in favor of said John B. Redd, for the sum of eighty-four dollars, payable out of any funds not otherwise appropriated.

WHEREAS, The Legislature of Indiana has already placed the necessary means in the hands of the Governor, to avert, as far as possible, the sad calamities of this war, which is filling our State with desolated homes, and is still willing to adopt every means within its power to save the lives of those who have generously and patriotically offered them to the service of their country for the restoration of the Union; therefore,

Be it resolved by the Senate, (the House concurring,) That His Excellency, Oliver P. Morton, together with our Senators and Representatives in Congress, be, and they are hereby respectfully requested to use their influence with the War Department in such manner as shall procure for each sick and wounded Indiana soldier a furlough home, at the expense of the Government, whenever the regimental or hospital surgeon shall certify that said sick or wounded soldier is not likely to be fit for duty within twenty days.

Resolved, That suitable arrangements also be made whereby all such furloughed soldiers of this State shall be reported to the Adjutant General of the State, their names, places of residence, and the time for which they have been furloughed, in order that at the expiration of their furlough, or at such time after the expiration thereof as they shall be declared fit for duty by competent surgeons at their place of residence, all such soldiers may, by the Adjutant General of the State, be ordered back to their several regiments.

The Committee on County and Township Business, to which was referred Senate bill No. 54, A bill to correct the east boundary of the county of Blackford, have had the same under consideration, and directed me to report the same back with the following amendment, and when so amended, recommend its passage :

Amend the bill by inserting the following preamble :

WHEREAS, The eastern boundary of Blackford, at the time of its organization, and for years afterward, was on the section line running north from the south-east corner of section five, township twenty-two, range twelve, east, to the line dividing townships twenty-three and twenty-four, thence east to the south-east corner of section thirty-two, township twenty-four, north of range twelve, east, thence north to the north-east corner of section five, in township twenty-four, range twelve, east ;

AND WHEREAS, By the eighth section of an act entitled an act dividing the State into counties, defining the jurisdiction of such as border on the Ohio and Wabash rivers, approved June 7, 1852, the east boundary of said county is by mistake made to run from the south-east corner of said section five, in township twenty-two, north to the line dividing townships twenty-three and twenty-four, thence east to the south-west corner of section thirty-two, township twenty-four, range twelve, east, thence north to the north-west corner of section five, in township twenty-four, north of range twelve, east, making a difference of six sections;

AND WHEREAS, The territory lying between the above two boundary lines, has been taxed by and considered as a part of the county of Blackford a greater part of the time since the passage of said act in 1852, although actually lying within the county of Jay according to the lines of the last mentioned boundary; therefore, in order to correct said mistake,

Strike out the two last lines of the amended section, and in their place insert the following: "North in the section line to the line dividing townships twenty-three and twenty-four, thence east to the south-east corner of section thirty-two, township twenty-four, north of range twelve, east, thence north, in the section line, to the place of beginning."

Mr. Murray from the majority of the Committee on State Prisons, submitted the following report :

MR. PRESIDENT :

The majority of the Committee on State Prisons, to which was referred Senate bill No. 155, requiring all persons hereafter sentenced to the State Prison, to be conveyed to the State Prison at Jeffersonville, &c., have instructed me to report the same back with the recommendation that it be laid upon the table.

Mr. Ferguson, from the minority of the Committee on the State Prisons, submitted the following :

MR. PRESIDENT :

The undersigned, a minority of the Committee on the State Prison, to which was referred Senate bill No. 155, introduced by Senator Bradley, cannot concur with the majority of the committee in their recommendation to lay said bill upon the table for the following reasons:

Two main propositions are contained in the bill:

1. Requiring all prisoners hereafter convicted to be conveyed to the southern prison.
2. Providing for the removal of convicts from one prison to the other, whenever the interest of the State required it, or when such removal shall become necessary for the safe confinement of the convicts.

The bill does not interfere, in any manner, with the construction of the northern prison, should an appropriation be made for that purpose. The law authorizing the location and construction of the northern prison provided for the employment of 150 convicts in the work. About 130 convicts are now confined in that prison, only 20 less than was contemplated by the law should be sent to that prison prior to its completion. It was not the intention of the legislature, in the passage of the first act in regard to the new prison, to make it a receiving prison until its completion. At the extra session, in 1861, the condition of the southern prison was such that a removal of a portion of the convicts became absolutely necessary. The prison was crowded. The convicts idle, with little prospect of finding employment for them, and, in consequence of having no employment, became mischievous, and gave frequent manifestations of a mutinous disposition. Under such circumstances, the Legislature passed an act authorizing the removal of 200 convicts to the northern prison, and providing that all prisoners thereafter convicted, in certain counties, should be conveyed to said prison.

Since then the southern prison has entirely recovered from its embarrassment. Only 190 convicts are now confined within its walls, while the prison has the most complete arrangement for the safe confinement of 425, that being the number of cells, of the strongest character. All able bodied convicts are profitably employed, and not a dollar of appropriation is asked for the support of the prison for the next two years. An increase of force is greatly needed in the tobacco shop, the shoe shop, and probably other departments, and the labor of every convict sent there can be put under lease from the day he is received. We have ample reason to believe that if the number of convicts is materially increased, the institution, instead of being a drain upon the treasury, will not only sustain itself, but have a surplus over and above its expenses.

We respectfully submit, as our opinion, that not another convict should be sent to the northern prison in its present condition. Most assuredly it should not be made a general receiving prison until a sufficient number of cells are completed for the safe keeping of the convicts. True, splendid workshops have been erected. No better could be asked for or expected. But not a single cell has made its appearance. The large and expensive guard force rendered necessary under such circumstances, the frequent escapes and large expense incurred in efforts to recapture, are sufficient arguments in favor of our position on this subject, especially when taken in connection with the fact that an increase of convicts in the southern prison, under its present arrangement, will create only a trifling guard expense, in addition to the present expenses.

But it may be urged that the number of convicts now in the northern prison will be gradually reduced by expiration of their terms of sentence, until an insufficient number proper to be employed in construction remain. Such an objection cannot be applied to the bill under consideration, for the bill itself provides for the removal of convicts from one prison to the other whenever the interest of the State requires it, so that whatever number may be required at any time, may be easily removed from the southern prison.

But is it certain that this Legislature, at its present session, will make any appropriation for the immediate completion of the northern prison? If such an appropriation is doubtful, the bill, by all means, ought to become the law, for the reason heretofore stated, that the prison ought not to become a general receiving prison until it has more facilities for the accommodation and safe keeping of the convicts than now exist, and under the present law there is no authority for the removal of any prisoner, no matter how necessary it may become to cause such removal.

The undersigned, therefore, recommend the passage of the bill.

C. P. FERGUSON,
AUG. BRADLEY,
THOS. R. COBB,
S. K. WOLFE,
G. W. FINCH.

Mr. Ferguson made an ineffectual motion to concur in the report of the committee, with an amendment striking out six hundred and fifty dollars.

The report was then concurred in.

Mr. Browne of Randolph, from a select committee, submitted the following report, which was concurred in:

MR. PRESIDENT:

The question being, shall the bill pass?

Mr. Graves moved to recommit the bill, with the following instructions:

Amend so that no tickets shall be numbered except those voted by persons whose votes are challenged, or as to whose right to vote the judges of the election entertain doubts, and that in all such cases their names shall be indorsed upon the tickets, but in no other cases.

In any prosecution under this act, it shall be competent for the defendant to show in his defense that such negro or mulatto was duly registered in some other county of the State, and for that purpose the certificate of the clerk of such county, showing the fact as contained in such register shall be prima facie evidence thereof. And in all prosecutions under this act, if it shall appear by the register of negroes or mulattoes, on file in the clerk's office of the county where said offense is charged to have been committed, that such negro or mulatto, so coming into the State, or so employed, or encouraged to remain in the State, is not registered therein as provided by law, it shall be prime facie evidence of the fact that such negro or mulatto has come into the State subsequent to the thirty-first day of October, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-one.

Leave being granted,

Mr. March introduced

Senate bill No. 175. A bill to authorize the settlement of the estates of decedents out of court;

Which was read a first time, and passed to a second reading on to-morrow.

Leave being granted,

Mr. Downey offered the following resolution:

WHEREAS, The General Government, aided by the loyal States, is engaged in putting down a wicked rebellion, which was commenced and had been continued without justification or adequate cause;

AND WHEREAS, It is fit and proper that the Senate should express, in a temperate but firm and unequivocal manner, the conviction of its members in regard to the duty of the State and its citizens in the present crisis; therefore,

Resolved, 1st. That we recognize, to the fullest extent, the duties and obligations of allegiance, fidelity and loyalty to the Federal Government and the Government of the State, each in its proper sphere.

2d. That any violation, or alleged violation of the Constitution of the United States, by any of the co-ordinate departments of the Government, while it may be a reason for displacing those who may be guilty thereof from the positions of public trust which they occupy, by an application to the proper tribunal, or by an appeal to the peaceful arbitrament of the ballot-box, does not release the citizen from his obligation to support the Government in that which is constitutional and right.

3d. That the obligations of allegiance, at all times, but more especially in times like these, when the Federal Government is threatened with overthrow and destruction, require not only a passive obedience, but an active, unceasing and united effort to suppress rebellion, to assert and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution, and to enforce the laws.

4th. But we recognize the right of any and every citizen to oppose, by writing, speaking, and by his suffrage, the measures of any party, and to insist upon a different line of policy, whether such party be the party in power, or a party out of power, while that opposition shall be made in accordance with the Constitution and the laws, and shall be unmixed with disloyalty to the Government.

5th. That with this right conceded and secured to the citizen, there can be no occasion or excuse for resorting to other than peaceful, constitutional and legal means to displace objectionable rulers, or to correct abuses in the administration of the Government.

6th. That the present, as well as all other wars prosecuted by our Government, must be prosecuted in such a manner and for such purposes as will be sanctioned and approved by the sentiment of a majority of the people of the loyal States; for as the National Executive is dependent upon Congress for the means of carrying it on, and the Congress is composed of men freely chosen by the people, and bound to carry out the will of the people by whom they are elected, if the people are opposed to the manner in which the war is being prosecuted, or the objects sought to be accomplished, the President must change that manner or abandon that object.

7th. That if, therefore, the present war is being or shall be prosecuted by the National Executive in an improper manner, or for improper purposes, there is no occasion for extraordinary, unconstitutional, or illegal remedies. Our Constitution and Laws, when unperturbed, are such that, in due time, the people may apply the proper remedy.

8th. That we have no evidence of any desire on the part of the rebel government, or of any considerable number of the people in the rebel States, to return to their allegiance to the Government of the United States, and become obedient to its Constitution and

Laws, nor have we any assurances that any advances by us towards an adjustment of the pending difficulties would be met by a corresponding disposition on their part, but on the contrary, their object seems to be, as it has been from the beginning, to compel a permanent dissolution of the Union, by the recognition of the independence of the Southern Confederacy.

9th. That while this continues to be the case, we are opposed to an armistice, or cessation of hostilities, and in favor of a continued and more vigorous prosecution of the war; not to carry out the views of extreme men in the mere abolition of slavery, but to put down the rebellion, and compel obedience to the Constitution and the Laws.

10th. That as the contest, on our part, has been for the support of the Constitution and the perpetuation of the Union against those who sought to destroy them, we can accept no adjustment which does not fully recognize the accomplishment of these objects. We contend for the supremacy of the Constitution and the perpetuation of the Union, with all the dignity, equality, and rights of the several States unimpaired.

11th. That we owe a great and lasting debt of gratitude to the brave men who have gone to the battle-field from our heroic State, and who, by their deeds of gallantry, have given her a position for patriotism and devotion in the common cause, second to no other in the Union. Some of us have induced them thus to devote themselves to their country's cause. We will not now repudiate our obligation to them, or stultify ourselves from saying that they went to accomplish that which, from the commencement, was known to be impossible; but we will continue to support and encourage them, and, if necessary, will labor to increase their numbers, and will continue the contest, by the grace of God, till in His good time He shall see fit to crown our efforts with success.

12th. That the idea of forming a North-Western Confederacy, of attaching this State to the Rebel Confederacy, or of a reconstruction of the Union with any of the States left out, is only equalled in wickedness and folly by that which would now, or at some future, but not distant day, acknowledge the independence of the rebel States, or that which would refuse to reconstruct the Union with any slave States in it; any and all of which we repudiate, denounce and condemn.

13th. That the President of the United States has the constitutional and legal power to call out the militia in time of invasion, insurrection, or public danger, and he alone has the power to decide where an emergency exists, which requires it. We, therefore, affirm it to be the duty of the State and the citizens to respond to such call, when made in accordance with the Constitution and the laws, and that any forcible or armed opposition and resistance to such requisition would be treasonable in its character, and would most probably lead to collision, bloodshed, and civil war in the State.

14th. That all attempts by word, letter or publication, to render the soldier dissatisfied with the service, or induce him to desert, and all efforts to prevent the capture of deserters, in order to compel them to perform the service which, by their enlistment, they are bound to perform, are regarded by us as unwise, improper, and in gross violation of law.

15th. That we regard secret and oath-bound political combinations as, at all times, improper, and especially so at the present time, and we can but express the hope that our fellow citizens will refrain from entering into, or continuing such organizations, if any such exist; that they will refrain from heated and angry discussions, and by a calm and dispassionate exercise of judgment, try to think and act together in a cause which should be equally dear to all true patriots.

16th. That we are opposed to any attempt to deprive the State Executive of any part of his Constitutional power, as Commander-in-Chief of the State Militia, but we are of opinion that the exposed condition of our southern border demands a more efficient military organization than can be had under the present law.

Mr. Downey moved that the resolutions be referred to the Committee on Federal Relations;

Which was agreed to.

Mr. Corbin submitted the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT:

The Committee on Benevolent Institutions, to whom was referred Senate bill No. 147, with certain instructions accompanying the same, have had said bill and instructions under consideration, and caused the amendments to be made in accordance with said instructions; they have also directed me to make the following further amendments:

1st. In the tenth line of the third section after the words "President," inserting the words, "of such board."

2nd. In the first line of the 5th section after the word "the," striking out the word "persons," and inserting in its stead, "such Trustees and Commissioners."

3rd. In the eleventh line of the sixth section, after the word "force," by inserting the words "relative thereto, and not inconsistent therewith."

4th. By adding after the 9th section the words, "that the claim is just and unpaid, and that the same was incurred on the account of and for the benefit of said institution, and when such amendments are made, do recommend its passage."

Mr. New, from the Minority Committee, submitted the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT:

The undersigned, a minority of the Committee on Benevolent Institutions, to whom was referred Senate bill No. 147, being a bill reorganizing the Boards of Trustees of said Institutions, would respectfully report that, in their opinion, legislation on that subject is inexpedient and unjust. They are satisfied that the present system for the government of said Institutions is the best and most economical that has yet been devised, and the reports of the several Institutions for the last two years, show that the present officers have managed the same with honesty, fidelity, and economy, and investigation into the same has confirmed the correctness of said reports; therefore, inasmuch as there is no reason for changes in the law, or officers of said Institutions, we recommend that said bill be indefinitely postponed.

MR. PRESIDENT:

The Committee on State Prisons, to whom was referred Senate bill No. 155, entitled a bill requiring all persons hereafter sentenced to confinement in the State Prison, to be conveyed to the State Prison at Jeffersonville, and providing for the transfer of convicts from one State Prison to another, &c., &c., together with instructions to inquire into the expediency of continuing the construction of the Northern State Prison, respectfully report that they have had said bill and instructions under consideration, and report said bill back with an amendment, upon the adoption of which they recommend its passage.

Amend by striking out from the enacting clause, and insert the following:

With regard to the instructions, directing them to inquire into the expediency of continuing the construction of the Northern State Prison at Michigan City, they respectfully report that they deem it unnecessary to enter into a lengthy review of the arguments that may be adduced upon this question, pro and con, at the present time. The committee are nearly unanimous in the opinion that the interests of the State require that the construction of that Prison should not be abandoned, but, on the contrary, should be prosecuted with a view to its completion, if not at an early day, at least at some period not very remote. The committee are all, more or less, impressed with the truth of the statements of some Senators that said institution was "conceived in sin and brought forth in iniquity." They have little doubt that misfeasance and corruption attended its first establishment. But these are simply melancholy facts which attended its earlier history, and which it was particularly incumbent upon the contemporaneous Legislature to deal with. That institution is now the property of the State, upon which large sums of money have already been expended, and it becomes the duty of the present Legislature, as the guardian of the public property, and of the interests of the State in general, to exercise the same care and regard for it, as though the utmost degree of honesty and integrity had attended its first conception. It is most likely that the same circumstances (an increase of convicts too great for the accommodations of the Jeffersonville Prison) will soon occur again, and the Legislature, in the event of giving up the Northern State Prison, would be compelled to find such accommodations elsewhere. The committee are firmly of the opinion that the same amount of work, and of the same excellent character, can not again be obtained for the same money. All who have visited the Prison at Michigan City concur in the opinion that the contracts let, and the materials furnished for construction, have been obtained upon most favorable terms; that the work has been well done, and will compare favorably with similar work in any other State. That the construction of said Prison has been so far cheaply effected, is mainly owing, the committee believe, to the fact before alluded to, and well known, that that institution has not, at any time, been the favorite bantling of the Legislature, and had lavished upon it large sums of money with a liberal hand. Therefore, the persons connected with its construction felt the vital necessity of having the work made of such a character as would commend it, by its merits alone, to the kind consideration of the Legislature and people of the State. Their exertions in this direction, we believe, have been a success, and merit our approval. Had appropriations been freely and willingly made by a confiding Legislature, double the sum of money already expended would not, in our opinion, have produced the same results.

The committee are, by no means, disposed to recommend that any large appropriation should now be made for a continuance of such construction. The appropriations now made should be regulated by the ability of the Treasury to meet the demands upon it. An appropriation to meet the debt due contractors should undoubtedly be made immediately; and, in addition thereto, a further sum for construction, if no larger than the amount appropriated at the last session, for it is not to be supposed that the Legislature will allow so costly and valuable a property to revert to the donor of the land upon which the Prison buildings are erected, as both land and buildings will, in case of a discontinuance of the construction and use thereof as a Prison.

The committee do not feel called upon, at this time, to recommend the adoption of any resolution upon this subject; they, therefore, respectfully ask to be discharged from the further consideration thereof.

Also amend title by inserting the following:

An act to authorize the transfer of convicts from one State Prison to another; and also to authorize the sending of convicts from any county in the State to such Prison, as may, in certain contingencies, be named by the officers of State.

W. C. GRAVES,

On part of a majority of the Committee.

Mr. Johnson, from a select committee, submitted the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT:

The select committee, to which was referred Senate bill No. 176, have had the same under consideration, and inasmuch as there is a bill already passed the Senate, have directed me to report the bill back and recommend that it lie on the table.

Mr. Williams, from the Majority of the Committee on Finance, submitted the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT:

The Committee on Finance, to whom was referred the following resolutions, to-wit:

Resolved, That the Committee on Finance be instructed to examine and report whether the one hundred thousand dollars appropriated to the Governor as a Military Contingent Fund, has been expended in accordance with the intent and meaning of the law making said appropriation.

Resolved, That the Committee on Finance be instructed to examine and report whether in their opinion, there has been any violation of the embezzlement laws, and if so, at what time, and by whom, with leave to report by bill or otherwise;

Make the following report of their investigation, and respectfully submit the same to the Senate:

On the 17th day of April, 1861, the Governor, Auditor, Treasurer, and Secretary of State, effected a loan of twenty-five thousand dollars from bankers of this city. This was done before any law was passed authorizing the loan, but of that the committee has no disposition to complain, as the officers of State were acting on a pressing necessity, and for proper and praiseworthy purposes. In all our investigations it will be the aim of the committee to deal candidly with all matters coming before them.

For the purpose of legalizing the loan thus made, and making payment thereof, the following bill was passed and approved on the 4th day of May, 1861:

“An act to legalize the act of the Auditor of State in depositing certain bonds of the State in the Branch at Indianapolis of the Bank of the State of Indiana, as security for twenty-five thousand dollars, borrowed by the Governor, Secretary, Auditor, and Treasurer of State, and to assume and to provide for the payment of said sum of money by the State, approved May 4, 1861.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, That whereas it became necessary, in order to comply with the requisition for troops, recently made by the President of the United States to procure a large sum of money for the use of the State, before the General Assembly could be convened; and whereas, the Governor and Auditor, Treasurer and Secretary of State, upon their own private credit and responsibility, borrowed from the Branch at Indianapolis of the Bank of the State of Indiana, for the use of the State, the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, to be expended for and on behalf of the State, in paying the expenses incurred and to be incurred, in raising and sustaining troops, in compliance with the said requisition of the President; and whereas, the Governor, and other officers of State aforesaid, gave their promissory note for said sum of money, dated April 17, 1861, payable on demand to the order of C. L. Stevenson, Cashier of said Branch Bank, with interest, and to secure the payment of said note, the said Auditor of State deposited in said Branch Bank five per cent. bonds of the State of Indiana, to the amount of thirty thousand dollars, therefore, the borrowing of the said sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, and the depositing of said bonds as security for the payment thereof, as above recited, are hereby declared to be legal and binding upon the State of Indiana, and the debt contracted as aforesaid is hereby assumed, and shall be paid by the State of Indiana out of the Contingent Fund of the Governor, appropriated by this General Assembly for the purpose of defraying the expenses of responding to the Proclamation of the President of the United States, for troops; and if no funds specially provided for the purpose of paying said debt, should be in the Treasury when it becomes necessary to pay the same, then the said debt shall be paid out of any money that may be in the Treasury, and not otherwise specifically appropriated.

Section 2. There is an emergency which requires that this act should take effect immediately, and it is therefore enacted that it shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

The Senate will see that the twenty-five thousand dollars, borrowed from the bank of this city, before the meeting of the extra session of the General Assembly, was ordered by law to be paid "out of the Contingent Fund of the Governor," or if there be none of that fund, "then that said debt shall be paid out of any money that may be in the Treasury, and not otherwise specifically appropriated." One of these modes of payment only could be legal. The sequel will show how and from what fund the same was paid.

In prosecuting the history of the laws appropriating moneys for the payment of the war expenses assumed by Indiana, we find the following enactment, passed by the General Assembly, and approved on the 6th day of May, 1861:

"An act making an appropriation to defray the expense of preparing to respond to the call of the President of the United States for troops, approved May 6, 1861.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, That the sum of one hundred thousand dollars be, and the same is hereby appropriated to the Governor's Contingent Fund, for the purpose of paying the expense of calling out and sustaining the militia, under this requisition of the President of the United States, and that the same shall be drawn on the order of the Governor, specifying the articles, and from whom purchased, the services rendered, and by whom, and that said order shall be in the Auditor's office before a warrant is issued therefor, except in such cases where the same may be deemed expedient by the Governor, but that he keep a detailed statement thereof, and report to the ensuing General Assembly, all disbursements by him made out of said fund, specifying each item thereof.

Section 2. It is hereby declared that an emergency exists for the immediate taking effect of this act, therefore it shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage."

Out of this ample appropriation of one hundred thousand dollars, it was expected that all expenses which had been incurred would have been paid, and certainly that the Governor would have allowed that the requirements of the law of May 4, 1861, directing the payment of the loan of $25,000 out of this fund. That was a reasonable expectation, because it was a lawful one. It was specially appropriated "for the purpose of paying the expenses of calling out and sustaining the militia," &c., and the twenty-five thousand dollars was borrowed in advance for that purpose.

On the 31st of May, 1861, the Senate adopted the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the Governor be requested to furnish a detailed statement to the Senate of the expenditure of the one hundred thousand dollars appropriated for a contingent fund to the Governor, at the commencement of the present General Assembly."

To this resolution the Governor returned the following reply, June 1st, 1861:

STATE OF INDIANA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Indianapolis, June 1, 1861. }

To the Senate of the State of Indiana:

At 8 o'clock last evening, a resolution passed by your honorable body, calling upon me to give a detailed statement of the expenditures of the one hundred thousand dollars appropriated as a military contingent fund to the Governor, was laid before me. .

In the brief period allowed for the answer, it will be impossible to give all the items, which would involve an examination of over two thousand vouchers. These vouchers are on file in the office of the State Auditor.

From the records in my office, a general statement can be given.

On the 4th day of May last I drew from the treasury, on account of said fund, the sum of $10,000; of this amount, $6,000 was immediately paid to J. H. Vajen, Quartermaster General, on account of debts already accrued; $616 63 was paid for telegraphing; the balance, $3,383 37, was deposited to the credit of the State, as a reserved contingent fund, and is still unexpended. Since that time I have examined and passed vouchers to the amount of $133,177 78. Of this amount $25,000 was paid by a loan made from the bank before the meeting of the Legislature. The above sums were all expended for subsistence, clothing, equipments, and transportation of the troops raised in this State, for State and Federal purposes, and incidental expenses connected therewith. It will be seen that the fund is exhausted. This results from the fact that the troops were on hand and had to be provided for, and that the second appropriation was not made until the 30th of May—two days ago.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

O. P. MORTON, Governor.

Here, on June 1, 1861, less than thirty days after the passage of the act granting one hundred thousand dollars for the Governor's contingent fund, that officer reports to the Senate that "the fund is exhausted," leaving the impression that it had been all paid out in obedience to the law, and for objects which the law contemplated.

This statement was received without any doubt of its accuracy, and especially as the House of Representatives sent to the Senate, on the 29th day of May, 1861, a bill appropriating a further sum of twenty-five thousand dollars for the Governor's contingent fund. As the General Assembly had already passed an act appropriating one million of dollars for the general purposes of the organization of troops, this body did not see the propriety of granting any further special fund to the Governor, and the bill from the House failed to receive the sanction of the Senate. Thus matters stood at the close of the extra session, and the further history of the Governor's contingent fund is disclosed in the Auditor's report, on the first of November, 1861.

In that report Auditor Lange says :

From a report submitted to the Legislature, at the extra session, it would seem that Governor Morton labored under the impression that the first $100,000, charged to the military fund, had been charged to the "military contingent fund." Twenty thousand dollars of this being a loan to the General Government for the support of troops, made by the Governor, was properly charged to the "military contingent fund." The rest was properly charged to the military fund, as will appear from the vouchers on file at this office.

It will be discovered in the above extracts from the Auditor's report that when he speaks of the "military contingent fund," he means the "Governor's contingent fund." This should be borne in mind, in order to understand the condition of these several funds at the time to which this investigation refers. There has been manifest irregularity in the manner of drawing on these separate funds, and the Governor and State officers do not seem to comprehend that system and regularity are essential to conducting properly the affairs of the State at a time like this. We will cite briefly some of these irregularities as a sample of others. For instance: Warrants Nos. 2,941, 2,942, 2,943, and 2,944, were drawn upon the Governor's contingent fund, on the 20th, 21st, and 22d days of May, 1861. On the 21st day of May, 1861, Governor Morton, by warrant 3,197, in favor of W. S. T. Morton, who had furnished "accountrements," drew upon the Governor's contingent fund for $9,750 75. All these payments are charged up to this "military fund," and not to the fund upon which they were drawn. This is shown by the books of the Auditor and Treasurer of State. The "military fund" did not exist at the date of the warrants, and no money existed by which to pay them, for the law appropriating the sum of one million of dollars for this "military fund," did not pass till the last days of May, and was approved only on the 31st of that month. By what authority the change was made, or for what purpose, the committee have no means of knowing, but the whole operation seems to be both irregular and unwise. The statements of the Governor, on the one hand, and the statements of the Auditor and Treasurer of State on the other, do not harmonize.

The Governor's report to the Senate of June 1, 1861, says the contingent fund "is all exhausted," while the Auditor says that only $20,000 dollars of that fund was expended, and that sum was drawn out by the Governor himself. The Treasurer of State, in reply to a resolution of the Senate, says, under date of January 20, 1863, "there has been paid out, for war purposes, between the days specified, (the 17th day of April and 30th day of May, 1861,) out of the contingent and military contingent funds, $47,170 83; out of the military fund $49,819 96; out of the State arms fund $12,232 59. I have no means of knowing the precise amount devoted to war purposes out of the above sum of $47,170 83, as the accounts of the contingent fund proper, and the military contingent fund, were blended together."

This is the testimony of the Treasurer of State; and the committee cannot but believe that blending together funds specifically appropriated, and for objects so dissimilar, is liable to great abuse, and should be discontinued altogether. Irregularity commenced at the very outset of the war expenditures. The bank debt made before the assembling of the extra session ($25,000), and which was drawn for against the "Governor's contingent fund," was never charged to that fund at all, but has been transferred to the general military fund, and the same paid out of the treasury, as we conceive, without the warrant of law. To decide this point, it is only necessary to ask, "was the Governor's contingent fund in such a state that this $25,000 could be paid out of moneys remaining unexpended?"

The committee, on the authority of the Governor, the Auditor, and Treasurer of State, unhesitatingly declare that it was able to discharge that debt.

Auditor Lange says, in his report of November, 1861, that the Governor's contingent fund had been drawn on but for $20,000, and Mr. Harvey, the Treasurer, says that the contingent and military contingent funds only contributed $47,819 96 previous to May 30, 1861. All the testimony is, that the Governor's contingent fund was ample to discharge the bank debt. Why was not this done, as the law required? Considering this whole matter in a dispassionate manner, the committee are bound to declare that, in their opinion, the law has not been complied with, nor its authority respected.

In regard to the second resolution of the Senate, directing the committee to inquire and report whether there has been any violation of the embezzlement laws, and, if so, at what time, and by whom? The committee, for a full understanding of these laws, will refer the Senate to the sections which impose penalties for such offenses.

Before doing so, however, it is proper that we should refer to the legislation which preceded and followed this enactment. On the breaking out of the rebellion which has led to military operations, the General Assembly passed an act appropriating $1,000,000 for the purpose of organizing and equipping troops in this State. We copy below the first and fifth sections of this act, in order that the Senate can comprehend the intentions of the legislative authority of Indiana. They are as follows:

An act making additional general appropriations for the years 1861 and 1862, and defining the funds from which they are to be paid, and providing for a committee to audit claims upon said appropriation, and providing for the expenses thereof, approved May 31, 1861.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, That the sum of $1,000,000 be and the same is hereby appropriated to defray the expenses growing out of the insurrectionary condition of a portion of the United States, and in enlisting, maintaining, and subsisting troops, and providing munitions of war, including, also, the expense of this session of the General Assembly.

SEC. 5. That, there shall be appointed a committee, consisting of two members of the House and one of the Senate, to be denominated an Auditing Committee, whose duty it shall be to meet at Indianapolis monthly, and examine and audit the accounts of the Commissary General and Quartermaster General, and all other accounts, either for pay of men or materials of any kind purchased and designed to be paid for out of the appropriation made in the first section of this act; and the Auditor of State is expressly prohibited from paying any claim of any description whatever, except for legislative expenses, out of the appropriation made in the first section of this act, until said claim has been audited and certified by said committee, or a majority of them.

This law is very plain, and no man or officer, unless he intends to disregard the plainest provisions of law, can mistake or misapprehend it. It left nothing to the choice or caprice of any officer of the State government. It was mandatory. It would be very difficult to frame or employ language to express a wish more clearly. And yet this right of the General Assembly was called in question, and the people's representatives defied and placed at bay by the officials which then had charge of the departments here.

There could be no question of the power of the Legislature to constitute this Auditing Committee, composed of members of both branches. The Courts have so decided. This feeling of resentment against the legislative power of the State has been inaugurated for no worthy purpose, and it is for the people to apply a corrective. Men occupying executive and other departments and positions at the seat of the State Government, have but too often interposed to stifle the rightful course of legislation, and to tell the Representatives and Senators who are sent up to make and enact necessary and wholesome laws, what shall be done and what shall not be done—everything is expected to bend to the one man power, and all attempts to put a check upon extravagance and arbitrary rule is met by a scowl or repelled by official insolence. This Auditing Committee was refused all power or access to a discharge of its duties, and it was not till the Courts had sustained the law that these Representatives were allowed to enter upon the discharge of their functions. The same spirit which prompted this gross interference in the legitimate action of the last General Assembly is equally active in stifling off those now here with fresh indorsements of the people.

The provisions of the embezzlement acts are intended for a wise purpose, and it is obligatory on all men who assume the duties of public place and position to see that they are enforced. Those provisions are simple and to the point, as follows :

SEC. 8. If the Auditor of State shall draw any warrant upon the Treasurer of State, unless there be money in the Treasury belonging to the particular fund upon which the same is drawn to pay the same, and in conformity to appropriations made by law, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, and be imprisoned in the county jail not less than one nor more than six months.

SEC. 9. If the Treasurer of State shall use the money of any particular fund, or the money appropriated by law for any particular purpose, to pay any warrant drawn upon any other fund or appropriation, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than one hundred dollars, nor more than five thousand dollars, and be imprisoned in the county jail not less than one month nor longer than six months.

This committee has no disposition to speak unkindly of those who forgot the laws of the State, but there is so much at stake, in times like these, when the money of the people is scattered broadcast, that this Senate would be unmindful of its duty if it failed to condemn those departures from duty which are so glaringly manifested of late. There never was, in the history of legislation, an enactment so much needed as the one from which we extract two sections, as above. It was designed to protect the Treasury of the State, and to save the means of the people from the depredations of officials placed in charge of their moneyed affairs. The embezzlement law is a good one; but how has it to be observed?

Let us come to the facts. On the 4th day of May, 1861, the General Assembly passed an act which we place in full at the beginning of this report, in which the borrowing of the $25,000 from a Bank of this city, by the Governor, &c., is legalized, and it makes an appropriation on May 6, of $100,000, to be known as the Contingent Fund of the Governor, and provides that the said $25,000 thus borrowed shall be paid out of that fund. Has this been done? Has that law been complied with? Not at all. On the contrary, the loan has been paid and charged to another fund, the "Military Fund," which had no existence at the time the authority was given, nor for nearly thirty days thereafter. There was no enactment of any sort authorizing the "Military Fund," and yet when this appropriation of a million of dollars is voted by the General Assembly, the Auditor of State, out of this fund, pays the loan of $25,000 while he had $80,000 of the Governor's Contingent Fund on hand, and from which he was directed to pay the borrowed money. If this is not violating the law, and taking money from one appropriation and applying it to another, then it is useless to put human laws in plain language to guide public men. The committee wish to be perfectly respectful to a co-ordinate branch of the Government, but it does seem to them that this is an infraction of all the forms and spirit of that law, and should receive the notice of this Senate. It will also be seen, by the tables annexed, that large orders for money were drawn, from time to time, on the Military Fund during the month of May, and before any appropriations were made for the purpose. The Auditor and Treasurer were aiders in these irregularities, and in this have come short of their duty to the State and her laws.

It is but right that notice be taken of these departures from a strict administration of the department at the seat of Government, for a law violated gives new occasions for disregarding others of equal importance. The nation is now engaged in "upholding the supremacy of the law," and putting down a rebellion against them, and it would be a rare instance of human folly to spend millions upon millions for such a purpose, and yet permit our Governor and State officials to disregard those of our own General Assembly, instituted as these laws were, for the protection of the public treasury.

The committee are aware, and properly consider the embarrassments under which the State officials labored in May, 1861, and would not harshly judge either them or the acts referred to; they would not willingly add an undeserved reproach, or recommend a harsh measure, but the committee is forced to the conclusion that it was the duty of the Auditor and Treasurer of State to frankly acknowledge that their action was irregular, and, at the same time, invoke for it, such legislation as would vindicate the law, and release them from all intentional or covert violation of the solemn enactments of the General Assembly.

Respectfully submitted,

J. D. WILLIAMS, Chairman.

Mr. Claypool, from the same committee, submitted the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT:

The minority of the Committee on Finance, to whom was referred certain resolutions, instructing them to report whether the $100,000 appropriated to the Governor as a Military Contingent Fund, had been expended according to the intent and meaning of the law, and whether there had been any violation of the embezzlement laws, and if so, at what time, and by whom, beg leave to submit the following report:

The report of the majority was submitted, for the first time, to the minority, on yesterday, and is a long and elaborate document, and improperly purports to be the work of the entire committee.

The minority of the committee were never notified of any meeting of the committee, at which the subjects of the aforesaid resolutions were to be presented, nor were they aware that a report was being prepared, or that an investigation was being made. If any meetings of the committee were ever held to consider the subject embraced in the report, the minority have no knowledge of them. No opportunity has been presented for mutual investigation and comparison of opinions, such as seems to have been contemplated in the establishment of legislative committees, and we submit that a report presented to the Senate, under such circumstances, should be received only after rigid scrutiny, if received at all.

The principal charge in the report is that a loan of 25,000 dollars, made on the 17th of April, 1861, by the Governor, Auditor, Treasurer and Secretary of State, for military purposes, was paid out of the wrong fund. It is not pretended that the loan was improperly paid—only that the payment of it was charged to the military fund, instead of the military contingent fund. If we concede the charges to be true it does not appear, nor is it pretended, that the State has lost a dollar in consequence, nor is it anywhere pretended that any portion of the military contingent fund, or military fund, has been squandered or fraudulently used. The report shows that on the 4th of May, 1861, an act was approved legalizing the said loan, and the act of the Auditor in depositing with the bank, stocks to secure the same, and providing that it should be paid out of the contingent fund of the Governor, appropriated for the purpose of defraying the expenses of responding to the proclamation of the President for troops.

At this point it becomes very material to consider the fact that at the time of the approval of this act, no appropriation had been made for the Governor's contingent fund, except five thousand dollars for 1861, and five thousand dollars for 1862, made at the preceding regular session. Subsequent, however, to the act of the 4th of May, another was passed appropriating 100,000 dollars for a military contingent fund, to be expended by the Governor in the manner pointed out by this act. The first section of the act provides that 100,000 dollars shall be appropriated for paying the expense of calling out and sustaining the militia under the requisition of the President, that the same should be drawn upon the order of the Governor, specifying the articles, and from whom purchased, the services rendered, and by whom, and requiring him to keep a detailed statement thereof, and report to the ensuing General Assembly all disbursements made by him out of the said fund, specifying each item thereof. No provision is made for paying a bank debt of twenty-five thousand dollars, nor could such payment be made consistently with the terms of the bill.

The majority of the committee agree that the bank debt could have been properly paid out of this fund, because the loan was contracted to procure money to pay upon debts of the same character provided for in the act; but argument is futile in the face of the provisions of the act, which declares that the money shall be paid out on military accounts, and directs how the accounts shall be kept. If it were intended that so large a portion of this fund was to be employed on the payment of a bank debt previously contracted, provisions would have been made for it, or at least provisions would not have been inserted inconsistent with such intention.

The argument of the majority of the committee is unfortunate in this, that although the act of the 4th of May provided that the bank debt should be paid out of a contingent fund which did not then exist; yet, afterwards, when the fund was created, a different direction was enacted for the expenditure of the money.

It is further argued by the majority, that on the 28th of May, 1861, when the bank debt was paid, the military fund had not been created, and there was no fund out of which such payment could be made, except the Governor's contingent fund.

In this they have fallen into a palpable error, as will appear by reference to the last clause of the first section of the act of May 4th, 1861, providing for the payment of the bank debt, which clause reads as follows: "And if no funds specially provided for the purpose of paying said debt should be in the treasury when it becomes necessary to pay the same, then the said debt shall be paid out of any money that may be in the treasury, and not otherwise specifically appropriated."

Now as the act appropriating the $100,000 Contingent Fund did not specially provide for the payment of the said debt, then the clause we have quoted became operative, and provided for its payment out of any moneys in the Treasury, not otherwise specifically appropriated.

If any fault has been committed it was on the part of the Auditor charging up the amount paid on the bank debt to the Military Fund, and reducing the fund that much. It should have been charged to a fund to which no name is given in the act, but which is provided for in the clause of the act of the 4th of May, just quoted. But even supposing that an error has been committed in keeping the accounts, and that the payment of the bank debt should have been charged up to the Contingent Fund, the report of the majority is most unfortunate in the attempt made to connect the Governor therewith. The error will be the Auditor's who kept the accounts of the State, and upon whose books are entered the charges against the various funds created by law, and who classifies and preserves all vouchers. The report refers to no fact or circumstance connecting the Governor with the manner in which the account was kept by the Auditor, nor could any such statement be made with a shadow of truth. Various loans were made by the Governor and other State officers, during the year 1861, to raise money for military purposes, and when they fell due they were paid by the Auditor and Treasurer, without consulting the Governor, and without his agency. Not only is there no evidence to show that the Governor had any thing to do with the charging up the payment of this loan to one fund or to another, but the extracts from the Auditor's report for 1861, shows that he had not, and that the classification of the vouchers was the work of the Auditor himself.

We here quote the extract as set forth in the report of the Auditor:

"From a report submitted to the Legislature at the extra session, it would seem that Governor Morton labored under the impression that the first $100,000 charged to the 'Military Fund,' had been charged to the 'Military Contingent Fund.' Twenty thousand dollars of this being a loan to the General Government for the support of troops, made by the Governor, was properly charged to the 'Military Contingent Fund.' The rest was properly charged to the 'Military Fund,' as will appear from the vouchers on file at this office."

An elaborate attempt is made in the report, to complicate the Governor, by showing that on the 1st of June, 1861, he sent a communication to the Senate, in answer to a resolution of inquiry, stating that he had audited accounts to the amount of $133,177 78, and that the Military Contingent Fund was exhausted. In obedience to a resolution introduced into the Senate at the present session by the Senator from Knox, the chairman of the committee, on the 20th day of January, the Governor submitted to this body a detailed statement of all the expenditures of the Military Contingent Fund, and referring to, and explaining the communication sent to the Senate by him on the 1st day of June, 1861. This report was printed and placed upon the desk of every Senator, and can not have escaped the attention of the majority of the committee. The majority, in their report, set forth at length the Governor's communication of the 1st of June, 1861, but entirely ignore his report submitted during the present session. This entire suppression of his last report, may be the result of accident, but we fear will subject the majority of the committee to public suspicions of unfair dealing. Had they presented the concluding part of that report, it would have left nothing to be explained by us, and would have rendered any report upon our part wholly unnecessary. We here quote the part referred to:

"On the first day of June, 1861, in answer to a resolution of the Senate, inquiring what disbursements had been made under the military contingent fund, I reported to that body that I had examined and passed vouchers to the amount of $133,177 78, for the subsistence, clothing, equipment, and transportation of troops raised in this State for State and Federal purposes, from which it would appear that the military contingent fund was exhausted. This report was made from my own books, and not from those of the Auditor of State. Some time afterwards I was notified by the Auditor of State, Mr. Lange, that my statement that the fund was exhausted is an error, inasmuch as the vouchers composing the above amount of $133,177 78, had by him been charged to the military and other proper funds, all of which appeared by an examination of his books, excepting the sum of $20,000, of which sum I had drawn from the treasury $10,000 as the Governor of the State.

"Of this latter amount, $6,000 was paid to John H. Vajen, as Quartermaster General of the State, for which he properly accounted by filing in the Auditor's office vouchers and receipts. The remaining $4,000 I deposited in bank, in my official character, for a special purpose, but it not having been required, I returned the money into the treasury, with the interest that had accrued upon it in bank. The sum of $616 63, alluded to in my former report as having been paid for telegraphing, was paid by a check, and turned out to have been charged to my private account in bank, leaving the official deposit of $4,000 unbroken. This sum of 616 63 was repaid to me from the military fund.

The above statement is a conclusive answer to the entire report of the majority, and could not have been quoted by them without destroying their elaborate production. It shows that of all the accounts accrued up to June 1, 1861, only $20,000 had been charged to the contingent fund, and that the Auditor notified the Governor that he had charged the rest to the military and other funds, and this is confirmed by the report of the Auditor before quoted.

In the attempt of the report of the majority to establish the existence of irregularities in the manner in which the business has been conducted, certain vouchers are referred to, and one is singled out and presented, bearing the name of William S. T. Morton. While it is not pretended that there is anything wrong in the account or voucher, and the error is only in the fund to which it was charged, yet the selection of that name may lead many to suspect that it was done for a purpose which is not acknowledged in the report. Without intending, on our part, to charge any such purpose on the part of the majority of the committee, nevertheless we are of the opinion that the public generally will believe that the report was prepared as an electioneering document, and was intended to injure public officers against whom no charge of misconduct in office has been successfully made. It should be a matter of profound congratulation to the Governor and the late officers of State, that although a full exhibit of the affairs of the State for the last two years has been before the country for many weeks, that all the zeal and industry of their political enemies have been unable to show that a single wrong has been committed. If there has been mistakes, they have been trifling, and the State has not suffered by them.

The majority of the committee, in their report, refer at some length to the embezzlement law, but the minority have failed to discover anything in their remarks showing corruption or fraud on the part of any of the officers of State. A suspicion is raised that the law has been violated, but we submit, if wrong has been done, if fraud has been committed, justice to the State, as well as to the officers intended to be implicated, require that the facts should be fully and specifically stated.

The undersigned, from the limited opportunities which have been afforded us in this investigation to look into the facts, are of the decided opinion that the law has been substantially complied with, and that neither the State nor any individual has suffered to the amount of one cent by any of the transactions which the majority have so conspicuously singled out in their labored report.

Mr. Finch, chairman of the Committee on Federal Relations, submitted the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT:

The Committee on Federal Relations, of the Senate, to whom was referred the proceedings of the officers of the 20th regiment Indiana volunteers, held at Camp Pitcher, Virginia, on the 19th of February, 1863, the memorial of the 19th regiment of Indiana volunteers, as well as the memorial and proceedings of the 6th, 15th, 17th, 22d, 29th, 34th, 32d, 37th, 38th, 39th, 40th, 42d, 44th, 51st, 57th, 58th, 72d, 73d, 75th, 79th, 82d, 86th, and 101st regiments of Indiana volunteers, have had the same under consideration, and having bestowed upon those proceedings the respectful and earnest consideration to which they are entitled, have instructed me to report the following general reply to the suggestion of our gallant volunteers now in the field:

To the Regiments now in the field from Indiana, and to the officers and men who compose them:

FELLOW CITIZENS:—We have received from twenty-five Indiana regiments, and from the 5th, 7th, 8th and 10th batteries of artillery, words of counsel and advice, in the present imperiled condition of our beloved country. These words were borne to us in the language of true patriotism, and are accepted by the Senate of Indiana with that respect which is due to gallant men engaged in the service of their once peaceful, but now distracted country. From no portion of our fellow-citizens could these suggestions be more acceptable. But two short years ago you were in the midst of our people, sharing, in the various walks of life, the cares and responsibilities of civil occupations, and enjoying those endearments which make up the sum of human happiness—for man, after all his toils, has nothing left to him but “wife, children and friends,” the enjoyment of home, and the love of a constitution and government which is to descend to his posterity, it is to be hoped, forever. It is for these that men labor. Beyond those objects, in this world, there is nothing that challenges the constant and persistent effort of our race. For these we all contend in life’s short career. You are now in the tented field, and we in the Legislative halls of our beloved State—each endeavoring to put down a rebellion, and preserve a constitution—the one hated, the other adored. That each effort may be successful, is the prayer of the Indiana Senate!

We fear, gentlemen, that you have heard much that was untrue in regard to the intention of the General Assembly which convened at this Capital on the 8th day of January last. You have heard a great deal that was untrue before that time. For more than a year past there has been a constant effort to mislead your minds in regard to the feelings of a majority of the people of Indiana, and we doubt not that it will be continued. There is an object to be gained. On every account we shall regret its success, because that would do more to ensure "divided councils," which you so properly deprecate, than any one thing else. There should be strict justice meted out to all our people, for each and every man in Indiana has the same interest in restoring the authority of the Government, and bringing all the States back into one harmonious union. The humblest citizen and the proudest in the land should have a common object in view in keeping the States together, and he is no friend of the nation who would divide us up into factions at a time like this, by false representations of the aims and intentions of the great mass of the people of Indiana. The majority of this General Assembly have suffered much from the ungenerous accusations of partisans in and out of office. They have forborne to repel these charges, as they deserved, for the sake of quiet and peace at home, determined to rely upon their actions as the best and most worthy defence of themselves in your eyes, and the eyes of the great and patriotic people of your State. We have remained comparatively silent, and while the influence which surround the Executive Chamber of this Capitol were used to prejudice this majority, and to make you believe that you had enemies at home, we, and those for whom we act, had sealed their lips, looking forward to the day when truth, and not falsehood, would break in upon the land. The very money which the majority of the people had paid for your comfort and benefit in the hospital, and in the sick-room, were turned into means of detraction by the agents paid out of that most sacred fund. These agents had access to you, and that privilege was abused to poison the minds of the sons and brothers of those who had willingly taxed themselves for the comfort of the soldier. You have, no doubt, seen those men in your camps, and you have listened to the recitals of those pensioned patriots—pensioned out of the money which ought to have been appropriated for your exclusive benefit. All this has been borne in silence. We now thank you for the opportunity which has been thus offered to set the true state of the facts before our gallant army. We ask only to be heard for the sake of truth.

We are accused of encouraging a partisanship in regard to this war, of which we are entirely guiltless. There has been no act or resolution passed, and none indorsed by either house of the General Assembly, which gives warrant or color to such a charge. There are measures of policy adopted by Congress and the President, to which we have or will enter our solemn protest, as the people of Indiana have done at the election in October. Men who make up and sustain the Government, as you, the people, and ourselves do, have a right to condemn such measures, if, in the exercise of a sound judgment, we regard them as intended to divide the people in the vigorous prosecution of the war. It is for the President to adopt a war policy for the army in the field, and it is the right of the people's Representatives in Congress, and in the local legislatures, to adopt such wise and prudent enactments in regard to the civil administration of public affairs as will most surely bring all the States back into the Union after the war is closed. This power and duty we claim for Congress and the local legislatures, and, without the rightful and free exercise of this power, neither the soldiers in the field, nor the citizens at home, would have institutions worth fighting or contending for.

If the President can do as he pleases, and there shall be no limit to his power, then popular elections are a farce, and State Governments a nullity. We know you too well to believe that you would ever consent to the establishment of a doctrine so slavish. The gallant soldiers would be the first victims of such a despotism. The people and the State Governments are your own strong and sure defense against oppression now and neglect hereafter. Give neither up at the bidding of those who would degrade you and your fathers, brothers, neighbors, and fellow-citizens to the condition of serfs, and the bondage of slaves. Neither the soldiers or the people are prepared for such political humiliation.

Let us look to the history of our actions here and elsewhere, and the causes which have led to the ascendancy of the majority in this chamber. It was manifest before the adjournment of Congress, at the first regular session, that the whole policy of the Administration in conducting the war had been changed, and that new and startling measures were inaugurated at Washington. This created wide-spread alarm amongst the people in all the free States, and aroused a sentiment which demanded the convocation of a mass convention of conservative and loyal citizens at Indianapolis. That convention was held on the 30th day of July, 1862. It was called to give utterance to its sentiments in regard to the measures to which we have alluded. We cannot better define the position of the majority of this Senate and the other House, and of the people of Indiana, than by giving the resolutions adopted by the vast concourse of your fellow-citizens which assembled on that occasion. They are as follows :

Resolutions adopted at the Mass Meeting of the Democrats and other conservative citizens of Indiana, at Indianapolis, July 30, 1862.

That the Constitution, the American Union, and the Laws made under and by the authority of the Constitution, must be preserved and maintained in their proper and rightful supremacy—that the rebellion now in arms against them must be suppressed and put down, and that it is the duty of all good citizens to aid the General Government in all measures necessary and proper to that end.

That the Democracy of Indiana, with patriots everywhere, have made and will continue to make every sacrifice to the end that the rebellion may be suppressed, the supremacy of the Constitution maintained, and the Union under it preserved, but they are unalterably opposed to a war of conquest and subjugation, and they will never consent that the war on their part shall be waged for the purpose of interfering with the rights or overthrowing the established institutions of any of the States. In the language of Senator Douglas, uttered at Chicago a few days before his death: "We must not invade constitutional rights. The innocent must not suffer, nor women and children be the victims. Savages must not be let loose."

That we protest, in the name of ourselves and of our children, and in the name of all that we hold dear in the future of our beloved country, against the mischievous measure of negro emancipation in the District of Columbia, and the payment for such negroes out of the National Treasury; and we further protest against the resolution of Congress pledging the nation to pay for all negroes which may be emancipated by the authority of any of the Southern States; that we regard such measures, involving as they do an expenditure of two thousand five hundred millions of dollars, as measures of transcendent enormity, and fruitful only of National beggary to the land we love; that we are unalterably and unconditionally opposed to all schemes having for their object, immediate or remote, the taxation of the white man for the purchase of negroes anywhere; that we deny the constitutional right of the President or Congress to adopt a policy which taxes white labor to pay for negroes, or which would make the Government or people slave dealers—a policy which, if not arrested by the votes of the people, will entail upon unborn generations of our kindred a debt more overwhelming and appalling than ever cursed any nation of ancient or modern times.

That in opposition to measures of this kind we desire to interpose the peaceful and powerful agent, the ballot of a free people, and say, in the language of another, "We will neither surrender our rights nor forsake them. We will maintain our constitutional liberty at all hazards, and as a necessary step towards that end, we will maintain the Union in like manner. We are for the Constitution as it is, and the Union as it was."

That, in the language of the resolution of the conservative members of Congress, the doctrine of the Secessionists and of the Abolitionists, as the latter are now represented in Congress, are alike inconsistent with the Constitution and irreconcilable with the unity and peace of the country. The first have already involved us in a civil war, and the others (the Abolitionists) will leave to the country but little hope of the speedy restoration of Union or peace.

That this Convention denounces, as unwise and unpatriotic, all organizations, secret or open, having for their object the nullification of, or resistance to, the laws of the State, or of the United States—that oppressive laws and unwise legislation find their proper correction only at the ballot box, where a change of legislators will produce the wished for reform of bad and odious laws, and to that tribunal only will the patriot resort in this hour of his country's trial. We hold sacred and binding every enactment till repealed or declared nugatory by competent legal authority.

That the happy accord of the Border State Union men of Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri, and Western Virginia, with the Democratic delegations in Congress, in their joint efforts to arrest the tide of fanaticism in both Houses, has filled all National hearts in this State with sentiments of deep affection for our brethren of those gallant Commonwealths, and we hereby pledge to them and the country, our best efforts to secure to the councils of the nation statesmen who will labor to restore the union of the States on the basis, and in the spirit of our matchless and revered Constitution.

That the people of Indiana, having inhibited, by the State Constitution and law, the entrance of free negroes and mulattoes into this State, and as the present disturbances on our border are likely to bring in an influx of that population from neighboring States, we respectfully ask the public authorities of Indiana to see that the Constitution and laws are properly enforced on that subject. When the people of Indiana adopted that negro exclusion clause by a majority of ninety-four thousand votes, they meant that the honest, laboring white man, should have no competitor in the black race—that the soil of Indiana should belong to the white man, and that he alone was suited to her free institutions.

That the people justly view with alarm the reckless extravagance which pervades every department of the Federal Government; that a return to rigid economy and accountability is indispensable to arrest the systematic plunder of the public treasury by favored partisans, while the recent startling developments of frauds and corruptions at the Federal Metropolis, show that an entire change of administration is imperatively demanded.

That we approve of and indorse the resolutions drawn by Hon. John J. Crittenden, and adopted by the conservative members of Congress, on the 22d day of January, 1861, as a clear and just declaration of the objects which ought to be had in view by the American people in the present fearful emergency of their national affairs.

That we recur with patriotic pride to the bravery and valor of the officers and soldiers of all the Indiana regiments, exhibited in the struggles upon the many bloody fields in which they have been engaged, and that this Convention, in behalf of the Democracy of this State, tender to them a united testimony to their valor and devotion to the Constitution and the Union, and offer to the friends and families of those who have fallen in the service of their country its sincere sympathy and condolence, and that we will ever cherish in grateful recollection the willing sacrifice made by the noble sons of Indiana, in exchanging the peaceful avocations of life for the hardships and perils of war.

The Convention which passed these resolutions was attended by forty thousand citizens of Indiana, who had come up from every neighborhood and county in the State. Since the days when the white man first set his foot upon the soil of Indiana, there was never such an assemblage of the white race within the confines of this city. We may declare, too, that it was composed of as many unselfish men as ever attended a Convention. That there was politicians among them it would be uncandid to deny, but what gathering of the masses of the people has ever taken place, where that could not be said. It was, indeed, a mighty host of freemen, who met to counsel together. Many of them were the fathers, the brothers, or relations, of the men composing the grand army of the nation—all of them your friends.

And what can be said against the above resolutions? What against the principles laid down for the government of a great nation? Is there any disloyalty to the Government in their tone or spirit? They are plain and to the point. They have the merit of candor. It is no sectional or party platform, but embraces our whole country. We there pledged Indiana to the prosecution of this war for the high and holy purpose of restoring the Union, "putting down the rebellion now in arms against it, and that it is the duty of all good citizens to aid the General Government in all measures necessary and proper to the end." We stand by that pledge to-day.

The majority of this Senate and the other House, all the State officers, seven members of the lower branch of Congress, and a United States Senator, have all been elected on the grounds assumed by that convention. It condemned certain measures of Congress and the President, and took issue with the Republican Convention, which did not indorse, and would not condemn them. One of these measures of Congress was particularly obnoxious. It pledged the nation and people to pay for negroes which might be emancipated by the "authority of any State." It was a pledge which Congress had no right to make, and one that the freemen of this country will decree shall not be carried out. It was made without notice to the people, without even an allusion to it as a probable measure of policy, and in defiance, we are bound to say, of every constitutional power. How the purchase of three or four millions of negroes by the white laborers of the North could "put down the rebellion" or restore the Union, no department of the Government, and no member of Congress, has ever had the candor to explain. A pledge for such a purpose, by whomsoever made, and all similar schemes for mixing up negro emancipation with this war for the Union, received the open condemnation of that convention. It was but a reflex of the people's voice in July—it was the voice of Indiana in October. That condemnation we now echo from this Chamber, and there are none who will defend that pledge, or make an issue on it before the people.

If the Administration and its advisers desire to keep the people "united" for the prosecution of this war, why were these measures of negro emancipation and purchase forced upon the nation at a time like this? If they did not know that it would divide the citizens, and make men doubt in regard to the objects of this war, then we can only say that they have too little sagacity to control the affairs of a great nation. But when the proclamation of the 22nd September, 1862, fell upon the people, "like a fire bell in the night," the wildest confusion was added to the doubts which took possession of the public mind. There stood revealed before the world two measures which invoked the condemnation of the people of Indiana, and they received it! No one dared to defend them. They got no defense. The candidates sustained by the minority stood mute at the giant measures of oppression which they were expected to defend,—taxation for the purchase of African slaves and a horde of free negroes thrown upon the soil of the free west. We, and those with whom we acted, opposed measures of "transcendent enormity" like these, and those who apologized for them—they had no defenders—went under the wave of popular indignation in Indiana. Was this opposing the war? In defending you and ourselves from oppression and bankruptcy, and keeping the Government within the scope of its constitutional powers, we were only discharging a duty to our great and unfortunate nation. For doing this, we have been denounced to you as traitors, and by men, too, who have followed your camps, not to share your hardships and dangers, but to gather up the crumbs which have fallen from the table provided by the generosity and sense of justice of the people of your beloved State. We know these men, and whether of high or low degree, have a right to hold them up to the scorn and contempt of all just men, in the army and out of it.

You ask us to "give this war a cheerful and hearty support,"—that "we will pour out the treasure of the State as our soldiers have poured out their blood to aid the holy cause of restoring the Union of our fathers"—that we should abstain from heated political discussions and party wranglings, until the authority of our Government is once more established; that we should resist "the infernal spirit which would waste victory in humiliating compromises," and that we should sacrifice every thing, except liberty and political equality to national integrity. These requests are reasonable, and they come to us as pleasant words. The Senate of Indiana, the House of Representatives, and the people represented by both branches, have given, and will continue to give, a cheerful and hearty support to this war for the restoration of the Union, and the majority which we represent are prepared to contribute even more of the treasure of the State, than on any former occasion, in aid of the volunteers now in the field from Indiana. These two points in your request are, so far as the majority has power, already complied with. How far it will be in the power of that majority to avoid "heated political discussions, and party wranglings," will depend greatly upon the conduct of the minority, and their consent to accept deeds, and not words, as the measure of true men's loyalty. The legislation of the session has been generally harmonious, but there are great questions which now and then arise to impede the progress of business. There are no disagreements about furnishing the army with all that is deemed essential for its comfort, and large appropriations have already passed this Senate, and by a unanimous vote. These disagreements and "wranglings" are over measures which relate to people at home, and not to the army from our State. The majority, while they look to your interests, as soldiers, have also an eye to your home interests, and the welfare of our fathers, brothers, and neighbors. While you fight rebellion and treason in the army, the General Assembly wish to preserve your Government at home from being turned into an engine of tyranny, usurpation, and merciless taxation. They don't want you taxed to pay for negroes—nor to have the negroes come into Indiana to become hired laborers on the farms of the State,—they don't wish to have the people arrested without warrant of law, and imprisoned in dungeons, without trial. They don't want the money appropriated for your benefit squandered on pimps and favorites, and, above all, they don't want to see the free Constitution of Indiana trampled under foot for the gratification of those who aim to over-ride the co-ordinate departments of the State, and engulf all the powers of the Government in their own hands. That point of our resistance is what gives offence, and the political colporteurs sent amongst you to slander and villify the majority of this Senate, and the other branches of the Legislature, are performing only a duty imposed by the nature of their unhappy calling.

The Senate is quite willing to indorse the sentiment of your memorial, which counsels that we should resist the "infernal spirit which would waste victory in humiliating compromises." That is sound advice, and this Senate will lay the same to heart as a lesson of wisdom. The majority of this General Assembly assure their gallant friends in the army that there are no such members in either branch of the legislative departments. No one here thinks of "humiliating compromises," for they have no power to enforce compromises of any kind, and are too proud to beg them from the administration of Mr. Lincoln, even if their supplication could avail at such a tribunal. They know too well what influences prevail at Washington to approach the ear of our National Commander-in-Chief. Not so, good friends. No humiliating compromises are asked for by this General Assembly, and if there be a party which has "wasted victories," or failed to improve them when won, it must have been those in possession of the General Government, and not the Indiana Legislature. We have had no power to "waste" any victory, or to turn success into ashes in the hands of the nation. The assertion that we do desire such compromise is without foundation. The Senate and General Assembly of Indiana are entirely willing that the President and his administration should make this war a part of its history, and that its "compromises" shall begin at such time as may to them seem befitting. We had no agency in inaugurating this war—none in carrying it on—none in directing its policy—none in the control of its armies, and it is not our design to interfere with it in any improper manner. Our duty is to pay taxes—to take care of the sick and wounded soldier—to look and wait for the end of this cruel and bitter strife—to take care of our State affairs, and to hope that our beloved country will one day emerge from the clouds which hang over her, with the Union restored as it was, and with all the States existing in harmony under the matchless Constitution of our Fathers.

It would be wrong to conceal the fact that there is a growing anxiety in the public mind that this war should be brought to a close in some mode not humiliating to the nation. It has now lasted nearly two years, and with great waste of blood and treasure. Thousands have fallen in the conflict, and the richest veins have been opened to pour upon the earth the purple current of our brave soldiers. Indiana has contributed copious streams to the flood of human gore which has reddened the soil of Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri and Arkansas. Our braves have gone down on nearly every battle-field, and the hosts from our State have been thinned in every new encounter. They have fallen on the right hand and on the left. Disease has also done its work, and every train which passes over our thoroughfares brings the remains of some gallant spirit who died away from kindred and friends. And is it strange that this desire for peace should possess the public mind? Men are not made of iron, nor their hearts of steel. The human sympathies are not closed in the family circle, nor are human woes hushed by the clangor of arms. There are hearts that will feel, and minds that will think, even in perilous times like these. The kind father and the doting mother will remember their first-born, and wish he was at the old cottage, where from infancy his loved form was a solace to the declining years of his aged parents. The brother will look anxiously for the return of that brother-friend, the playmate of his earlier days. And has the poor and forsaken wife no choice about the time when this war shall close? Has she no wish to see him to whom, in the gushing hours of her spring-time, she abandoned all for his sake? Let us not be deceived. There are anxieties on this subject. The public mind is feverish, and will speak out. Neither Presidents, Congressmen, nor Governors, even with the aid of the grand army of contractors, can stifle this feeling of deep anxiety for an honorable peace. This nation is too young to cherish a sentiment for permanent war. Her institutions, founded on perfect freedom of sentiment, and the absence of military restraints, will not endure a long and wasting contest for the gratification of anything short of national existence. He is not a wise man who looks upon it in any other light. He is less than wise who could desire it.

The present General Assembly, by members of the reviled majority, have recommended the passage of the following measures for the benefit of the soldiers of Indiana now in the field :

1. A bill appropriating two millions of dollars to provide for the prompt payment of the officers and soldiers in the army of the United States, raised and organized in the State of Indiana, and to provide means for that purpose. This measure was recommended by Governor Morton, and promptly seconded by the majority members of the House and Senate. This bill has passed the Senate by ayes 43, nays none. The ayes are as follows :

Messrs.	Dickinson,	Hoagland,	New,
Bears,	Douglass,	Hord,	Pleak,
Berry,	Downey,	Jenkins,	Ray,
Blair,	Ferguson,	Landers,	Shields,
Bradley,	Finch,	McClurg,	Teegarden,
Campbell,	Fleming,	Mansfield,	White,
Claypool,	Fuller,	March,	Williams,
Cobb,	Gaff,	Marshall,	Wilson,
Corbin,	Gifford,	Melletts,	Wolfe,
Davis of Parke,	Graves,	Moore,	Wright, and
Davis of Cass,	Hartley,	Murray,	Mr. President—43

Democrats 25, Republicans 18.

2. A joint resolution of thanks to the soldiers of Indiana, and providing for the registry and preservation of the names of those who have fallen in the service of their country during the present war. This resolution has passed both Houses unanimously.

3. An appropriation of one hundred thousand dollars will be inserted in the specific appropriation bill, as recommended by the Committee of Ways and Means, to be expended in aid of the sick and wounded soldiers of Indiana, in such proper supplies as the government hospitals shall fail to furnish.

A committee of the House has also recommended, for adoption, the following measures for the action of Congress, the same being, in the opinion of the majority, demanded for the good of the service :

1. A joint resolution to Congress, asking that the pay of private soldiers in the army be raised 25 per cent., or say $16 per month, the present pay being shamefully inadequate to the service performed, and that a joint resolution be passed forthwith, urging the increase at the present session of Congress.

2. That we favor a joint resolution to Congress, to be passed forthwith, asking that it provide by law for the payment of the wages of private soldiers and company officers in gold and silver, or their equivalent in paper money, at par, and also for the payment of pensions to our wounded soldiers, and the pensions to the widows and orphans of those who have died in the service, or been killed in battle, in the same mode, and in the same par funds, it being the sense of this House that those who give their service, their health, and their lives to the nation, should be placed on as favorable footing as the banker or capitalist who loans money to the Government.

It is gratifying to be able to say to those in the field, that whatever differences of opinion may exist in this General Assembly in regard to the State policy of Indiana, and the emancipation measures of the administration of President Lincoln and the Congress just expired, there are none in relation to the duty of Indiana toward the army. The above measures, adopted and recommended, will be accepted as proof that no unfriendly spirit exists towards you. In return for this, the General Assembly only asks at your hands that no partisan efforts from home will swerve you from the duty of soldiers, or make you partakers of the fell spirit of faction which seeks to slander down a majority of the people of your own State. We want you to remember that the gallant old Democratic party fought two foreign wars with England and Mexico, carried the country successfully and triumphantly through those conflicts, and that no soldier ever received injustice at its hands. That party has been always recognized as the soldier's friend, and now that its own members make up a full half of the present grand army, it would be base and dishonored to desert them, or their no less patriotic associates of the Republican party. Put away from your presence, gallant soldiers of the nation, the cringing tools of power who visit your camps with slanders on their tongues, and the hate of their masters in their hearts, and tell them that your tents and your cabins are temples of honor, truth, and patriotism; that party and faction are excluded; that there is no room for those who desire to bear false witness against their neighbors; that your sense of justice and manhood require repose from the importunities of the slanderer and the tale-bearer. Tell these characters that you will trust to the people of Indiana, and all the departments of their Government, relying upon that sense of justice and right which has always been manifested by them in the conduct of their public affairs.

A thousand rumors have reached you, no doubt, about the intention of this General Assembly. It has been said, at the beginning of this session, that the majority of the two branches designed to "carry the State out of the Union, and attach her to the Southern Confederacy." This was stated in the streets of Indianapolis—first by some cowardly official, perhaps, and then, in the public prints belonging to the same faction. We need hardly say to you that such a charge rests upon the unsupported malice of some malignant knave, who, finding his party dying out, took that method of "arousing the country" against a phantom of his own creation. It would have been a ridiculous slander, if the subject of it was not too grave for ridicule. As it is, it was a base and cowardly one, for which the author or authors, if they could be traced out with certainty, deserve a just punishment. It would be a shame to defile the law by invoking its calm majesty to punish a man who would thus heap falsehood upon his fellow-citizens. If such a report has ever reached your camps, we declare to you that there is no truth in it—that there is not one man in either branch of the General Assembly, of the majority party, who now entertains, or ever entertained a thought so traitorous to himself, his God, and his country.

We again thank you for your communication, and for the kind manner in which you have expressed your wishes. They shall receive, as some of them have already, the respectful and favorable consideration of this General Assembly. You and your fellow-citizens at home have the same great object—the restoration of the Union, and the preservation of our sacred and revered constitution. While you look after traitors in arms, and overturn and overthrow their serried hosts, we shall take care of violators of the constitution at home, and see that the ballot of a free people is felt in the preservation of your liberties and our own. If rebellion triumphs, it will be no fault of yours. If despotism and anarchy, and the violation of constitutional rights are attempted in Indiana, it will be for the people of this gallant State to protect and preserve them.

In the bonds of love and affection for the Constitution and the Union made by it, unchanged and perpetual,

We remain your fellow-citizens,

THOS. R. COBB, Chairman,
S. K. WOLFE,
ARCH. JOHNSON,
P. HOAGLAND,
M. M. RAY,
JOHN DAVIS.

Mr. Cobb moved to lay the report on the table and print 10,000 copies.

 March 6, 1863. }

Senate met.

The Journal of yesterday was being read,

When,

On motion by Mr. Gifford,
 Its further reading was dispensed with.

Mr. Downey submitted the following report, which was concurred in:

MR. PRESIDENT:

The Committee on the Rights and Privileges of the Inhabitants of this State, to which was referred House bill No. 72, have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report that they fully approve the main objects sought to be accomplished by the bill, but they are of opinion that some of its provisions would unnecessarily abridge some of the natural and unalienable rights of the citizens of the State.

“From time whereof the memory of man runneth not to the contrary,” it has been allowed to exercise some of these rights in the public squares of cities, towns, and villages of the State, where the necessary improvements or erections thereon would, with propriety allow it to be done.

Jealous as the committee is, and ought to be of these time honored rights and privileges of the inhabitants of the State, and of the necessary privileges of this honorable body, they cannot recommend its passage. And as there is not now any probability of the bill again passing the House, if it should be here amended, they consider it their duty to recommend that it be laid upon the table.

Mr. Johnson, chairman of the Committee on County and Township Business, made the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT:

the decision of such clerk, in granting or refusing to grant such registration and certificate to such negro, or mulatto, or any citizen of the county, he shall have a right to appeal to the Circuit or Common Pleas Court of such county, in the same manner as appeals are taken from the decision of a justice in a civil action.

MR. PRESIDENT :

The select committee to which was referred so much of the Governor's Message as relates to the death of Professor Fletcher, have had the same under consideration, and have unanimously directed me to report to the Senate the accompanying resolutions, and to recommend their adoption :

1. Resolved, That the Senate has learned with deep sensibility and regret, of the death of Professor Miles J. Fletcher, at the time State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

2. That in the death of one possessed of such superior talents, education and high moral worth, the State has suffered an irreparable loss.

3. That his patriotism and devotion to the cause of his country, and his efforts to relieve the sick and wounded soldier, in which he lost his life, his zeal in the cause of education, and fidelity in the discharge of his official duties, merit our highest commendation.

4. That we sympathise and condole with his family in their severe and great bereavement.

5. That the Secretary of the Senate transmit a copy of these resolutions to the family of the deceased.

Mr. Cobb, chairman of the Committee on Federal Relations, submitted the following report :

MR. PRESIDENT :

The Committee on Federal Relations, to whom was referred sundry resolutions upon the question of federal relations, have had the same under consideration, and a majority of said committee have instructed me to report the same back to the Senate, and recommend that they lie on the table, and that the following preamble and resolutions be adopted as expressive of the sense of the Senate, upon the subject contained therein.

WHEREAS, At all times, and especially in times like the present, when the nation is involved in the terrible calamity of civil war, it is proper that the representatives of the people should express their sentiments in regard to the duty of the people and their public servants, upon the great questions agitating the country;

AND WHEREAS, Many things are being done by our public servants, inimical to the perpetuation of the Union, and the liberties of the people, calculated to divide and weaken the people of the loyal States, and unite and strengthen the rebels;

AND WHEREAS, We are desirous that all such things shall cease, and every thing that is detrimental to the Union cause shall be abandoned, and the people be united as one man, in the great and glorious work of suppressing the rebellion, restoring the Union, and preserving the constitutional liberty of the people under the old government as our fathers made it; therefore,

Be it resolved by the Senate, the House concurring, That the Constitution is the sacred ark of our political covenant, the shilobeth of our strength, and the charter of our liberties, and in the language of the patriot and statesman, Daniel Webster, we declare that if the people "are not struck with judicial blindness, as were God's chosen people, they will cling to the Constitution as the shipwrecked mariner clings to the last plank, when the night and the tempest close around him."

2. That the Constitution confers powers upon the different departments of the General Government, adequate to all the purposes of peace or war; that it is the same in war and in peace, on the battle-field and in the halls of Congress, and ought to be sacredly observed every where; and the doctrine advocated by the enemies of constitutional liberty that the existence of war invests Congress, or the President, with despotic power, is as groundless as it is odious, and is to be utterly condemned by all who have any regard for their own liberty, or the Constitution of their country.

3. That the States are component and essential parts of the Union, bound together inseparably by the Constitution of the United States; that none of them can cease to exist as such so long as that Constitution survives; that it is the exclusive sphere and duty of the States to order and direct their own domestic affairs. While the rebellion, therefore, has not annulled or destroyed the constitutional relations of the so-called "Seceded States" to the Federal Government, neither has it divested those States of any rights or powers, municipal or otherwise, properly belonging to them as members of the Federal Union. The actual exercise of those rights and powers may for a time be interrupted or obstructed by rebellion, and some illegitimate authority may be substituted in its place, but as soon as that rebellion is suppressed, those States will be entitled, as of right, to resume the exercise of all the rights and powers, dignities, and immunities, which properly belong to them as States of the Union, therefore we enter our solemn protest against the formation of "West Virginia" out of the State of Virginia, by Congress, as being in direct violation of section 3, article 4, of the Constitution of the United States.

4. That the liberty of speech and of the press is guaranteed to the people by the Constitution, and none but a usurper would deprive them of these rights; they are inestimable to the citizen, and formidable to tyrants only; and adopting the language of Daniel Webster, we declare that as "important as we deem it to discuss, on all proper occasions, the policy of the measures at present pursued, it is still more important to maintain the right of such discussion to its full extent. Sentiments lately sprung up, and now growing popular, render it necessary to be explicit on this point. It is the ancient and constitutional right of this people to canvass public measures and the merit of public men. It is a home-bred right, a fireside privilege. It has been enjoyed in every house, cottage and cabin in the nation. It is not to be drawn into controversy. It is as undoubted as the right of breathing the air and walking on the earth. Belonging to private life as a right, it belongs to public life as a duty. * * * This high constitutional privilege we will exercise within this House, and without this House, and at all places—in time of war, in time of peace, and at all times. Living, we will assert it; dying, we will assert it; and should we leave no other legacy to our children, by the blessings of God, we will leave to them the inheritance of free principles, and the example of a manly, independent and constitutional defense of them."

5. That the system of arbitrary arrests, and the wanton disregard of the great writ of liberty, commonly called the habeas corpus, by the Cabinet at Washington, are acts of tyranny and usurpation justly alarming to a free people, against which the State of Indiana solemnly protests; and in the name of constitutional liberty, we demand that the detestable system shall cease within her borders, and we declare the unalterable determination of the people to maintain the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus and speedy trial by jury at every hazard.

6. That we regard the proclamation of President Lincoln to abolish slavery in the Southern States as unconstitutional, unwise, and calculated to do the cause of the Union incalculable injury, by dividing its friends and uniting its enemies; and we, therefore, declare that it ought to be immediately withdrawn; that Indiana, ever ready and willing to do battle for the Union and the Constitution, solemnly protests against the diversion of her blood and treasure for the enforcement of that or any other emancipation scheme. We believe such a policy to be destructive of the Union, and a fraud upon the government, the citizen and the soldier.

7. That the interest of the white race, as well as the black, demands that the condition and locality of the latter in the Southern States should not be interfered with by the National Government or the people of the North; and a war, or legislation, or Presidential proclamations to accomplish the freedom of the negro and his consequent migration to the North, are acts of flagrant violation of the Constitution, and in wicked disregard of the people's voice, and the best interests of the country; and all such acts ought to be constitutionally opposed by an outraged people.

8. That we are uncompromisingly opposed to all schemes the tendency of which is calculated to overrun the State of Indiana with a worthless and degraded negro population, and we will resist all efforts having in view such object by every constitutional means.

9. That we denounce the assertion that slavery is the cause of our present troubles as a libel upon the framers of our Constitution, and repugnant to the facts of our national history. We ascribe them to the unholy ambition and wicked machinations of disloyal and fanatical agitators, North as well as South, who, for personal aggrandizement, have sought the destruction of the freest and best government on earth.

10. That President Lincoln's scheme of "compensated emancipation," which proposes to tax the people of Indiana to liberate the slaves of the South, is unconstitutional and a monstrous iniquity, to which a tax-ridden and overburdened people will never consent. The freemen of Indiana will never agree to impoverish themselves and their posterity to carry out such a wicked and insane policy, but they will oppose its consummation by all constitutional means within their power.

11. That the Union of the States is a necessity; and under no consideration or circumstance will we ever consent to surrender it. We must be one people, under one government and one flag.

12. That no Union can be maintained in this country until fanaticism on the negro question, North and South, is eradicated, and the sovereignty of the States over their domestic institutions is again acknowledged as the fundamental axiom of the government. The people of the North must banish the heresy of Abolitionism, or else yield up the blessings of the Union. Abolitionism and the Union are incompatible; the one or the other must triumph. A war for Abolitionism is a war against the Union; a war for the Union is a war against Abolitionism, which it is the duty of the people to vigorously prosecute at the ballot-box.

13. That while we condemn and denounce the flagrant and monstrous usurpations of the Administration and the encroachments of Abolitionism, we are yet more hostile to the Southern rebellion; we regard the doctrine of secession as a ruinous heresy, unwarranted by the Constitution, and destructive alike of the security and perpetuity of the government, and the peace and liberty of the people; that the rebels, on account of their base treachery to the conservative people of the North, and their still baser treason to their government, are entitled to no sympathy from the people whom they so basely betrayed.

14. That we protest against, and denounce as most unjust and oppressive, that system of sectional class legislation, by which, under what is known as the Morrill tariff, the manufacturers of New England are oppressing and impoverishing the farmers of the Northwest.

15. That the people justly view with alarm the reckless extravagance which pervades every department of the Federal Government; that a return to a rigid economy and accountability is indispensable to prevent the systematic plunder of the public treasury by favored partisans, while the recent startling developments of fraud at the National Metropolis, show that an entire change of administration is imperatively demanded.

16. That we condemn all secret organizations of a political character, as dangerous to the liberties of the people, and the peace of community; and we likewise condemn any and all organizations of an oath-bound and armed character outside the lawful military companies, whether secret or open, as designed to overawe the people, and calculated to lead to civil strife in the land, and no citizen should attach himself to any such organization.

17. That we earnestly recommend to the people everywhere, to observe and keep all their lawful and constitutional obligations, not only as a matter of duty and safety to all, but that they may not be reproached in history as having been guilty of the same crime they condemn in others.

18. That the meritorious conduct of the Indiana troops, on every battle field where victory has perched upon the national banner, has filled the people of this State with the highest gratitude to her gallant sons, and that we send our best wishes to officers and men in the service of their country, and the highest greetings of every citizen for their further brilliant achievements in the coming contests for the maintenance of the Constitution and the Union.

Mr. March, from the same committee, submitted the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT:

The undersigned, members of the Committee on Federal Relations, to whom was referred sundry resolutions of the Senate, have had the same under consideration, in connection with the majority of the committee, and ask leave to submit the following preamble and resolutions, and recommend their adoption by the Senate.

WALTER MARCH,
JOHN L. MANSFIELD,
THOS. M. BROWNE,
JOSHUA H. MELLETT,
M. D. WHITE.

WHEREAS, The National Government is engaged in putting down a wicked rebellion against its rightful authority, excited by bad and reckless men, without any just or adequate cause;

AND WHEREAS, Great solicitude is felt by the people of this and other States, in regard to the position and action of this General Assembly in this crisis;

AND WHEREAS, Our fellow citizens, now serving in the various armies of the republic, have laid before this General Assembly many memorials and resolutions, filled with sound admonition and wise counsel, breathing the most ardent patriotism, and expressed in words that burn with the fire of true courage and unfaltering and unconditional devotion to the flag of the Union, and to which a fitting response should be given; therefore,

Resolved, That we are unconditionally and determinedly in favor of the preservation of the Union.

2. That in order to the preservation of the Union, we are in favor of a vigorous prosecution of the war.

3. That we will sustain our State and Federal authorities with men, money, and supplies, in all their efforts to sustain the Union, and prosecute the war.

4. That we will discountenance every faction and influence tending to create animosities among the people, or to afford consolation and hope to our enemies in arms; and that we will co-operate only with those who will stand by the Union, and by those who are fighting the battles of the Union.

5. That we view every proposition for an armistice, or of compromise with rebels in any other basis than that of unqualified submission to the constitution and laws, as wholly inadmissible under any circumstances, and fraught with the most dangerous consequences to the country.

6. That we adjure the people of Indiana to carefully refrain, in word and deed from everything calculated to sow discord between different sections of loyal States as tending greatly to weaken the cause of the Union, and strengthen and encourage that of the rebellion.

7. That we are determined to maintain the allegiance of Indiana to the National Government at all hazards, and to the last extremity, and never will consent to the formation of a North-western or any other partial confederacy of States, under any circumstances whatever.

8. That resistance to law is revolutionary in its tendency, and that any attempt to embarrass the National Government in the execution of the conscription, revenue, or any other law of Congress, or to obstruct the arrest and return of deserters, should be frowned upon by the people, and promptly met and suppressed by the proper authorities.

9. That we regard secret and oath-bound political organizations as at all times improper, and especially so, at the present time; and we hope that our fellow-citizens will refrain from entering into or countenancing such organization wherever they exist.

10. That every department of the Government, both State and National, should be administered with the most rigid economy—all sinecures abolished, all officers discharged not in actual service of the country. That all frauds upon the public, both in civil and military affairs, should be exposed, and the guilty parties punished and compelled to restore to the public treasury every cent dishonestly or improperly obtained.

11. That the thanks of the General Assembly are most gratefully tendered to the officers and soldiers serving in the army for their heroic deeds, and words of wisdom and advice, and would send them, in return, greetings of good cheer, pledging ourselves that we will co-operate only with those who will stand by the Union, and by those who are fighting the battles of the Union.

Mr. March moved to substitute the resolutions offered by the minority, for those offered by the majority.

The ayes and noes were demanded by Messrs. Claypool and March, and being taken, resulted as follows: Ayes 20, noes 25.

THOSE WHO VOTED IN THE AFFIRMATIVE WERE—

So the amendment was laid on the table.

Mr. Downey moved to amend the report of the majority by adding the resolutions numbered eight and nine of the series just laid on the table.

Mr. Wolfe offered the following as a substitute for the amendment:

That while, in view of our present national condition, and the uncompromising feeling of the leaders of the rebellion, it may not, at the present time, be conducive to the end desired to procure an armistice between the Federal and Confederate armies, for the purpose of testing the fact whether or not an amicable settlement can be made between the contending parties on a basis of the Union, as many friends of the Union desire; yet we approve the general principle that it is the duty of the Government at the earliest period consistent with national honor, the public safety and the success of such policy to grant an armistice, without withdrawing the national forces, or surrendering any of the territory held, for the purpose aforesaid, to the end that no more treasure shall be expended, or blood shed, than is absolutely necessary to accomplish the overthrow of the rebellion, and the restoration of the Union under the Constitution.

Mr. Claypool moved to lay this amendment on the table.

So the bill passed.

Mr. Corbin, from the Committee on Benevolent Institutions, made the following report:

The Committee on Benevolent Institutions, beg leave to report, that they have visited said Institutions, and made as thorough an investigation of the qualifications of the officers, the treatment of the inmates, and the financial management thereof, as their limited time would permit. And they would say generally of them, that from all the information they have been able to obtain, the inmates have been well treated, and have received from the officers and teachers that attention which was due for their moral and intellectual culture, and observed in the various Institutions a degree of progress and happiness among the inmates, which reflects great credit on the State, under whose care they have been fostered and sustained, and of which her citizens should feel a just pride. But your committee regret to say that the financial affairs of said Institutions have not been conducted with that economy which should characterize them as pensioners of the people's bounty. They would therefore recommend the attention of this General Assembly to the passage of such legislative restrictions as will more fully guard said Institutions against future extravagance, and inaugurate a more prudent policy in the financial management of said Institutions.

As to the appropriations asked for by said Institutions, they would respectfully report as follows:

The Hospital for the Insane ask for the following appropriations:

For current expenses for 1863.....	$35,000
For construction of fence.....	1,500
For building kitchen, &c.....	15,000
For painting terrace, &c.....	1,000
For re-laying floors.....	300
For iron bedsteads.....	1,000

Making in all the sum of..... $53,800

But your committee would recommend the following appropriations:

For current expenses.....	$30,000
For constructing fence.....	1,500

For painting cornice, &c.	1,000
For repairing floors.	300
Making in all.	$32,800

The Institution for the Education of the Blind, have heretofore received an appropriation to meet their current expenses of sixteen thousand dollars, but claim by reason of the advanced price of necessities to supply said Institution, an increase of said appropriation to $20,000, they also claim an appropriation to construct heating apparatus for said Institution, amounting to..... $8,000
 For re-painting fence and building. 1,500
 For purchasing school apparatus. 1,000

Making in all. $30,500

As to the propriety of making said appropriation, your committee would remark, that although there is a great advance in such articles as are required to supply said Institution, yet they believe by proper economy the expenses may be curtailed sufficiently to meet such advance, and therefore recommend an appropriation to meet the current expenses for the year 1863, $16,000 They also recommend an appropriation for painting fence and interior of building, and to purchase school apparatus, $2,000.

The committee would remark, relative to the construction of a heating apparatus, for warming said Institution, that there are many reasons why this should be done, and one which we deem sufficient, is that with the present mode, said inmates are liable at any time to come in contact with the flames, and their clothing be the means of their own destruction, as well as the building, and in case of a conflagration, being scattered in the various apartments, would be perfectly helpless in providing means of escape.

The Superintendent has based his estimate for completing said improvement upon the supposition that the engine and machinery were to be placed in the building situate back of the main building, and between the two wings, in such a manner that the same is nearly surrounded, and the stack is so close that the soot from the same destroys all the rain water which is saved from the roof of the building, and in case of accident by bursting of the boiler it might do great damage to the main building. The committee think it inexpedient to put said machinery in said building so located, they have made inquiry as to the cost of removing said stack to the back side of the lot, and erecting a suitable building in which to put said machinery, and find that it will not increase the expenses beyond three or four thousand dollars, and would therefore recommend that an appropriation be made for that purpose to the amount of twelve thousand dollars, which would make the entire amount of the appropriation $30,000.

The Institution for the Education of the Deaf and Dumb claim the sum $26,500 to meet the current expenses of the Institution. But your committee are unable to see why it requires $10,500 more to meet the current expenses of said Institution when there are but thirty more inmates, than it requires to meet the current expenses of the Institution for the Blind, and would therefore recommend as an appropriation to meet the current expenses for the year 1863, the sum of $22,000.

On motion by Mr. New,
The report was informally passed over.

Mr. Dunning (Mr. Moore in the chair,) offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Principal Secretary of the Senate, and his employees; the Assistant Secretary of the Senate, and his employees; that the Doorkeeper and the Assistant Doorkeeper of the Senate, and their employees, in addition to the sum already allowed, be allowed each one dollar per day for their services, except the pages.

Mr. Browne of Randolph moved to amend as follows:

Make the pay four dollars as to all the Secretaries, four dollars as to Principal and Assistant Doorkeepers, and three dollars to their Assistants.

To the Officers and Soldiers now in the field from Indiana, in the various armies of the Republic.

FELLOW CITIZENS :

While we join the majority of the Committee on Federal Relations and of the Senate, in returning to you our most heartfelt thanks for your very opportune communications, your words of admonition and of counsel, and while we have been and are now willing to be guided by them in our action, and step upon your platform with any and all parties as the common platform of all true patriots, yet we have not understood that a long and formal reply, of the character of the one presented by the majority of the committee, was either desired or expected by you from this General Assembly, or either branch of it.

We have been willing to let this body, and all whom it represents, be judged by their acts, without any special detailed defense, thinking that we should give better heed to your counsel to "abstain from heated political discussions, and violent party wranglings," by keeping silent, than by sending among you such a document as the one recommended by the majority of the committee. For while defending one party and its members against a supposed charge of a want of unconditional and fervent loyalty to the national government, many accusations are directly and indirectly made against the national administration and its policy, against the State Executive and the persons employed by it to visit the sick and wounded soldiers, and consequently against all those who support the national administration, and those who have confidence in the energy, ability, humanity, and patriotism of the Governor of the State. But inasmuch as the majority of the committee and of the Senate, have resolved to send to you a general reply, although we cannot be expected to indorse all that is contained in the one proposed, yet we desire to unite with the majority in conveying to you our sentiments upon all matters in which we agree, and without attempting or desiring to notice many things of argument and of minor importance, to respectfully express our dissent from some opinions and conclusions contained therein, and supply some of its omissions.

We unite most heartily with the majority in all their expressions of regard for your welfare, for your honor and success; with them we sympathise with you in your toils and sufferings, your absence from home and its comforts, and we partake with them in the pride of your great achievements. We have heretofore, and will continue to unite with them, and with any and all parties in providing ways and means for your prompt payment, for your comfort when suffering from sickness and wounds, and for the comfort and support of your families under all circumstances in your absence. We lament the necessity for this war, and have not words with which to express our grief for the woe and sufferings it has inflicted upon our country, and upon many thousands of loyal hearts. But we can discover no way of escape, no hope of relief, except by subduing and disarming the haughty and insolent traitors, who, without cause, commenced the war.

In order to succeed in the war, we must be united and give to the Government our undivided confidence and support.

We unite with the majority of the committee in expressing a determination to defend all the personal rights of every citizen of the State from all unwarrantable encroachments from any quarter, and will support the State in the full exercise of all her constitutional powers, and at the same time maintain her allegiance to the National Government intact under all circumstances. We must say, however, that we have as yet failed to discover any disposition on the part of the General Government to encroach upon the powers of the State, or rights of the citizen.

We have said that the minority united with the majority in thanking you for your words of counsel and of good cheer. We repeat it. We had been told that you had been broken into factions, and were demoralized by the policy adopted by the General Government. Your patriotic communications to this General Assembly prove the report to have been a mistake or a base slander. There were rumors that you were discouraged and disheartened by the length of the war, and the want of more general military success, but your brave and loyal words and firm resolves, deprive these rumors of all power to harm, have strengthened our resolution and renewed our confidence in the ability of the Government to put down the rebellion, preserve the Constitution, and restore the Union.

Your counsel and suggestions have undoubtedly been of incalculable benefit to each member of this General Assembly in enabling him to come to a correct conclusion in regard to his course of conduct, and the line of policy to be pursued by the State. In common with you, at the commencement of the session, and until recently, we were alarmed and oppressed with great anxiety with reference to the position in which the State might be placed, and its influence upon the general cause. It is needless to refer to the causes, except in general terms, for you are fully acquainted with all our proceedings.

Resolutions have been introduced in this General Assembly by leading members, bitterly condemning the conduct of the executive of the State, and of the National Administration and all its policy, and at the same time recommending an armistice and a peace convention, while the rebels were treating all such propositions with scorn and contempt, and their military power was unbroken. At the same time, Davis, the arch traitor, was traveling through the rebel States and exhorting them to hold out, as the North-west was now divided on the policy of the war, and that was the "quarter to which he looked for the first breaking of the light of peace."

Bills were repeatedly introduced, whose only effect could have been, if enacted into law, to completely trammel the Executive in the exercise of his constitutional military powers, and divide the State into two hostile military camps. One of those bills is still pending in the House, engrossed for a third reading.

We are ready to admit that we breathe more freely since we have been presented with the general reply to your communications as representing the sentiments of the majority of the Senate. We repeat that the majority, in common with ourselves, have undoubtedly been greatly benefitted by your counsel and advice in their deliberations, and in coming to many of their conclusions.

You have now the double honor of defeating our enemies on the field of battle, and giving efficient aid in directing the civil government at home.

We wish now briefly to refer to a matter which seems wholly, or in a great part, omitted in the general reply of the majority.

In one of your communications to the General Assembly, you use the following language:

"We ask that you will sustain all officers of the State and General Government in their efforts to subdue this unholy rebellion, and especially that you will sustain our worthy Governor, whose every energy, during the past two years, has been entirely devoted to the cause of the Government and its supporters.

"We appeal to you especially to sustain him for the reason that it is chiefly to his unceasing care and labor, exhibited in arming and supplying the troops of Indiana, that we have to attribute our present proud position among the loyal States of the Union, and for the further reason that he has demonstrated by his acts that he is an earnest and zealous patriot, devoting his time with untiring energy to the glorious cause for which we are battling; we appeal to you as our Representatives to encourage him in the good work of ministering to the wants of our unfortunate comrades who have been stricken down in the strife of the battle field, and by the cruelty of relentless disease; that you will confer on him all the necessary authority, and place in his hands the requisite means to carry out the good work which he has begun, remembering that one human life is worth all the treasure of the proudest State."

We have failed to discover, in the general reply of the majority, any recognition of the services of the Governor of the State alluded to in your communication, or anything to strengthen or encourage him in his arduous and responsible labors; on the contrary, those employed by him to carry aid and comfort to the soldiers in the field and in the hospital, are villified with the most odious epithets; are called "pensioned patriots," "pensioned out of the money which ought to have been appropriated to your exclusive benefit." It is charged that "political colporteurs have been sent amongst you to slander and villify the majority of the Senate and the other branch of the Legislature;" "cringing tools of power, who visit your camps with slander on their tongues, and the hate of their masters in their hearts." It is charged that the "very money which the majority of the people had paid for your comfort and benefit in the hospital and in the sick room, were turned into means of detraction by the agents paid out of that most sacred fund."

You are undoubtedly better able to judge of the truth of these charges than any member of the committee, or of the Senate, but so far as our knowledge extends we are not aware of any facts to sustain them, and believe them to be wholly without foundation. If there is ground for these charges in any respect let it be published to the world. If they are without foundation we trust that you will promptly stamp them with falsehood, and vindicate the good name of Governor Morton, and of those appointed by him to carry to the sick and wounded soldier, the aid and comfort provided by the State.

We are not disposed to be the gratuitous laudators of any person, but in such a trying time for all public servants, we think those who are faithful, honest, and prompt in the discharge of all their official duties, should be at least exempt from public detraction, and that our execrations should be expended upon traitors and defrauders of the public treasury, who, if possible, are worse than traitors.

So far as relates to President Lincoln, we believe that he carries the heaviest burden that has ever been laid upon the shoulders of mere mortal man from Adam downward, "enough to crush Atlantean shoulders though fit to bear the weight of mightiest monarchies," and his hands ought to be strengthened and upheld by all loyal citizens.

He may commit mistakes. Who has not? His honesty and patriotism are unquestioned. To you, in conclusion, we join the majority of the Senate in rendering our warmest thanks and best wishes. We send you no party platform, and have no partisan ends to accomplish. We surrender no political opinions and ask that none be surrendered by others, but are ready to act and join hands with any and all citizens who are unconditionally loyal to the Union and the Constitution. We bring no railing accusations against our fellows, leaving all citizens and parties to be judged by their acts, but we desire that mere party strife be suspended until the rebellion is put down, and the Union restored.

We will stand by you and your interests, and the interests of your State at home, and pledge you the last dollar and last man, when necessary to supply your wants or fill your ranks.

With great respect and esteem,

Your fellow citizens,

JOHN L. MANSFIELD,

Mr. Claypool offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That when the work is completed in compiling the roll of honor and patriotic dead of Indiana, as contemplated by resolution of this General Assembly, that the same be published in book form, and sold by and under the direction of the State Librarian, at a reasonable profit, and that the proceeds of such sale, after defraying the expenses thereof, be appropriated to the use of the orphans of those who have fallen in the military service from the State of Indiana; such fund to be under the direction and control of the Governor, Auditor and Treasurer of State.

Mr. March offered the following:

Which was adopted.

Mr. Hord from the Committee on Swamp Lands, made the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT:

The Committee on Swamp Lands, to whom was referred bill of the House No. 145, entitled "An act for the relief of George Arnold," together with two proposed amendments thereto, have had the same under consideration, and would beg leave to report as follows:

The said bill proposes to pay to the said Arnold, out of the treasury of State, the sum of fifty dollars, with interest, the amount paid by him for 40 acres of swamp land, sold by the State, the title to which has failed. One of the amendments referred proposes to extend the same relief to another party similarly situated. The other amendment proposes that the payment shall be made out of the Swamp Land fund, instead of the State Treasury. As several other cases of this kind exist, a general law is applicable and advisable, and a bill for that purpose has already passed the Senate, and is now pending in the House. If any further legislative business is transacted in that branch of the Legislature at this session, that bill will, no doubt, become a law; and the committee believe its provisions will extend to all cases of this kind. No amendment, therefore, to this bill, can be of any practicable use. But for the existing circumstances the committee would be inclined to recommend its indefinite postponement. As it is, however, the committee have deemed it advisable to report the same back to the Senate, without amendment and without recommendation, for its action.

On motion by Mr. Hord,

House bill No. 145 was read the third time.

The question being, shall the bill pass?

THOSE WHO VOTED IN THE AFFIRMATIVE WERE—

Messrs.	Davis of Parke, Graves,	Marshall,

THOSE WHO VOTED IN THE NEGATIVE WERE—

Messrs.	Berry,	Johnson,	Williams, and
Beeson,	Ferguson,	Teegarden,	Wilson—7.

So the bill passed.

Mr. Brown of Wells, from the Committee on Enrolled Bills, made the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT:

The Committee on Enrolled Bills would report that House bills Nos. 57, 78, 110, 142, and 147, were presented to His Excellency, the Governor, for his approval and signature, at 11 o'clock, A. M., March 6th.

Montgomery, Doorkeeper, and Bruce Shields, Assistant Doorkeeper, and to their assistants and employees, for the prompt and faithful manner in which they have discharged the duties of their various positions during the present session of the General Assembly.

Mr. Williams called up the pending report from the Committee on Finance, informally passed over a few minutes since.

The question being on Mr. Dickinson's amendment, striking therefrom the allowance to Wm. H. Dils,

Mr. Wolfe moved to lay it on the table.

The ayes and noes were demanded by Messrs. Dickinson and Wolfe, and being taken, resulted as follows:

THOSE WHO VOTED IN THE AFFIRMATIVE WERE—

Messrs.	Douglass,	Hord,	White,
Blair,	Downey,	Johnson,	Williams,

So the motion lies on the table.

Mr. Corbin moved to strike out all in the report which proposes to allow Messrs. Baker and White for services as contestants.

Mr. Wolfe moved to lay it on the table.

The ayes and noes were demanded by Messrs. Moore and Corbin, and being taken, resulted as follows :

That J. J. Bingham be allowed three hundred and fifty dollars, as per resolution of the Senate, for fifty copies of Gavin & Hord's edition of the Revised Statutes.

Mr. Dickinson submitted the following protest, which was ordered to be spread upon the journal:

State of Indiana, in Senate of the General Assembly convened:

The undersigned do humbly and most earnestly protest against the allowance to William H. Dils, mileage and per diem for his attendance upon the present session, contesting the seat of Timothy R. Dickinson, the sitting member, for the following reasons, to-wit:

The said Dils presented a memorial and certificate as his credentials for a right to the seat in the following words, to-wit:

"To the Hon. President and members of the Senate of the State of Indiana now in session.

"The undersigned, your petitioner, respectfully represents that there being a vacancy in the office of State Senator from the district composed of the counties of Noble, De Kalb and Steuben, from and after the — day of August, 1862, occasioned by the present occupying member, Timothy R. Dickinson, having accepted on that day a lucrative office or appointment. That at the general election in October following your petitioner was duly elected to fill said vacancy, and herewith presents his certificate of election as such Senator.

"Your petitioner, therefore, prays that the seat of said Dickinson, who now occupies the same without any legal right thereto, be declared vacant and your petitioner be admitted and sworn in as Senator to fill said vacancy. As he will ever pray, &c.

"WILLIAM H. DILS."

"This certifies that by virtue of a certificate issued from the Clerk of the Circuit Court of De Kalb county, in the State of Indiana, and by said clerk delivered to me the sheriff of said county, I did, on Wednesday, the twenty-second day of October, 1862, proceed to the Court House of the oldest county (the same being the county of Noble), in this Senatorial District, for the purpose of meeting the sheriffs of the counties of Steuben and Noble, and then and there comparing the votes cast at the general election for said year, in said Senatorial district for the office of State Senator, and the sheriffs of said counties of Noble and Steuben not attending at said court house between the hours of one and six in the afternoon of said 22d of October, and it appearing by the certificate so issued and delivered to me as aforesaid, that William H. Dills has received the highest and greatest number of votes, to-wit: 1,406, cast in said Senatorial district, at said general election, for the office of Senator, I do therefore declare that said William H. Dills was duly elected Senator from said district, at said election, as appears by the certificate aforesaid.

Witness my official signature.

JAMES N. CHAMBERLAIN,
Sheriff of said De Kalb county, Indiana.

These are all the reasons given or evidence adduced why mileage and per diem should be paid to Mr. Dills, while here contesting the case for a seat in this body as Senator from the district composed of the counties of Noble, DeKalb, and Steuben, which of itself, in the opinion of the undersigned, is wholly insufficient to entitle him to such claim, even if a vacancy or cause of vacancy did exist at the time of the last October election. Therefore, for the following reasons, the undersigned do most earnestly and solemnly protest against the allowance of said claim, to-wit:

1. That at the October election, in 1860, the office of Senator from the counties of Noble, DeKalb, and Steuben, in the General Assembly of said State, was duly filled by a qualified person, according to the forms and requirements of the Constitution and laws, who entered upon the duties thereof at the first session of said General Assembly.

2. No vacancy, or cause for a vacancy existed in said office at the October election, 1862.

3. If there was any vacancy in said office at said October election, in 1862, no person was duly elected to fill said vacancy, which has been heretofore and now hereto verified by the following deposition, to-wit:

Timothy R. Dickinson,	}	State of Indiana,
ads.		County of DeKalb.
William H. Dils.		Contested Election.

Deposition of James N. Chamberlain, taken before William M. Clapp, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of the Nineteenth District, in said State, in the county of DeKalb, on the 20th day of January, 1863.

The said James N. Chamberlain being first duly sworn, according to law, deposes and swears as follows:

I commenced acting as the Sheriff of said county of DeKalb, in said State of Indiana, on the 22d day of November, A. D., 1860, and continued in said office, and doing the business of the same until the 11th day of November, 1862. On the 23d day of September, A. D., 1862, I received from the Clerk of the DeKalb Circuit Court, the precept marked "A," and hereto attached. In accordance with which I caused notices to be put up in the several townships in said county; notices of an election, of which the annexed, marked "B," is a copy. That I received no other precept from said clerk in regard to any election in October, 1862, except one for the election of County Auditor, which is marked "C," and attached hereto. That I received no precept from the said Clerk, or an authority in regard to any election of a State Senator in this county, nor did I give any notice of an election of any State Senator in this county, nor did I know of there being any vacancy in said office, or of there being any intention to vote for any person for such office, or that any votes had been given for any such, until six o'clock, P. M. on the day of the election. And I believe it was not generally known that any such officer was to be voted for at such election.

On Wednesday of the week following the October election, in 1862, I took the election returns of DeKalb county to the county seat of Noble county, Indiana, for the purpose of meeting the Sheriffs of Noble and Steuben counties, and with them count the votes in said counties for the office of State Senator, but the Sheriff of neither of said counties meeting me, I returned home. Afterward, some time in the latter part of December, A. D., 1862, and more than a month after the expiration of my term of office of Sheriff of said county of DeKalb, at the request of William H. Dils, I signed my name to some statement in regard to said election, which was presented to me by said Dils, the exact language of which I do not now recollect, but I did not intend, by so doing, to declare him duly elected Senator, and so informed him at the time, but only intended to certify in regard to the certificate from the Clerk of DeKalb county.

Clapp, whose name is signed to the foregoing deposition, was, at the date thereof, the acting Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, in and for said county, in the 19th district of said State; that his signature thereto is genuine, and full faith and credit should be given to all his acts as said Judge.

From which it appears, as well as by the claim by him presented, that his claim is a pretext without a cause.

4. That if the claim by him made has any color of right, other and different claims could be made with equal show of right, as the credentials by him presented was made by an ex-sheriff of a single county in said Senatorial district, and that after he had gone out of office.

5. For that the precedent thus set invites claimants to present themselves for the seats of every Senator holding over, provided they should do a single act, or perform a single service required by the Executive of the State, or any Federal officers of the United States, to have done or performed. For these, and other equally good and valid reasons, the undersigned beg leave to most earnestly and solemnly protest against the allowance of said claim, and do now here ask that this, our protest, be spread on the journal of said Senate.

T. R. DICKINSON.

Mr. Moore offered the following amendment, which was adopted:

That Julius Boetticher be allowed the sum of eighty-seven dollars and forty-eight cents, for eight weeks delivering of 162 copies of the Weekly Indiana Volksblatt, enveloped and stamped.

That R. Henninger be allowed $77 76 for eight weeks delivery of 162 copies of the Indiana Free Press.

On motion by Mr. Williams,

The report was further amended by striking out 28, and inserting 40 days for Baker.

The resolution and committee report, as amended, was then adopted.

Mr. Claypool offered the following resolution, which was adopted.

Resolved, That Dickey Richards, Thomas Ryan, John Talbert, Orlando Cobb, and Henry B. Montgomery, are justly entitled to the thanks of the Senate for the ready, prompt, efficient, and willing manner in which they have severally discharged their duties as pages of the Senate.

Mr. Brown of Randolph offered the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT :

The special committee to which was referred the special message of His Excellency, the Governor, on the subject of the Indiana Arsenal, asking that some legislation be made by the present General Assembly, have had the same under consideration, and as it has become impossible to make any further effective legislation during the present session, they return the communication without any recommendation, and without proposing any measure of relief, for the reasons aforesaid.

On motion by Mr. Brown of Wells,

His resolution, offered last night, was made the special order for 2 o'clock this afternoon.

On motion by Mr. Davis of Cass,

The Senate adjourned.

1½ O'CLOCK, P. M.

The Senate met.

Mr. Graves submitted the following report, which was concurred in :

MR. PRESIDENT :

The Committee on Banks, to whom was recommitted the memorial of D. R. Martin, in relation to the Lawrenceburgh Branch of the Bank of the State of Indiana, have had the same under consideration, and beg leave to report that they have examined into the matters of complaint embraced in the said memorial, and are of opinion that it is inexpedient to appoint an examiner to examine said Branch; therefore they ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

The Committee on Military Affairs, to whom was referred the following resolution of the Senate:

WHEREAS, There was raised by the sale of the Sutler's stands at "Camp Dick Thompson," near Terre Haute, about $3,080 00, during the organization of regiments at this camp; and

WHEREAS, Large sums was raised by the sale of Sutler's stands at the various camps throughout the State, by the person in command of the same during the organization of regiments in the year 1862; therefore,

Resolved, That the Military Committee be instructed to inquire into the several amounts so raised at the several camps, and whether the sums so raised have been accounted for to the proper authorities, have had the same under consideration, and have procured the testimony of Hon. Richard W. Thompson, which appears to elicit the facts:

Hon. Richard W. Thompson being sworn, testified that he had received the following sums of money, while acting as commandant of the Military Camp at Terre Haute.

From R. R. Sibley, Sutler's License, 71st Regiment.	$726 00
From M. Hughes, " " 85th "	1005 00
From S. French, " " 97th "	1165 00
Sale of Lumber, (proceeds on hand,)	525 00

Of this sum he paid out as follows:

For rent of Camp Ground	$75 00
For putting up Barracks, about, (there is a balance due)	200 00
For Drum Major and his Assistants, in the neighborhood of	300 00
For Medicines, (unpaid, probably $340,)	$60 or 70 00
For Hospital Stores, (amount not remembered)
For Supplying Soldiers and their lodging at night..
For Straw, $1 50 or $2 00 a load according to circumstances

These are all the charges, according to his judgment, against the Sutler's Fund. He has a list at home and can show an account for every dollar of money. There may be charges against the fund of over $1,500 00. Some are so exorbitant that he will not allow them. But there are some bills, amounting to four five hundred dollars, that must be paid. In one instance, the barracks were burned and two companies thus thrown out of doors, during a time of snow, when they were marched to town and lodged in the hotels.

He supposed there was a balance of six or seven hundred dollars on hand; he could tell precisely if he were at home. Whatever balance of the post fund is left will be turned over to the different regiments, in due proportion.

His purpose has been to have as many of these bills paid by the U. S., as the U. S. will recognize.

It is believed that the Indiana troops have been paid up to the 31st day of October last. The estimated amount of pay due for the two months ending December 31, 1862, is $2,000,000, and for the two months ending February 28, 1863, $2,000,000. The amount required every two months, (that being the regular period of muster for payment,) is $2,000,000, being $1,000,000 per month.

The delay in furnishing this information was occasioned by having to confer with paymasters and other officers of the army, so as to enable me to make the proper estimates.

O. P. MORTON,
Governor of Indiana.

STATE OF INDIANA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Indianapolis, March 2, 1863.

MR. PRESIDENT:

I have received from the Governor of Illinois the following resolutions passed by the Legislature of that State, in relation to enlarged facilities of transportation between the great lakes and the Atlantic coast and Europe, which I herewith transmit and lay before your honorable body.

O. P. MORTON,
Governor of Indiana.

ILLINOIS LEGISLATURE.

Joint Resolution in relation to enlarged facilities of transportation between the Great Lakes and the Atlantic Coast and Europe, adopted unanimously by the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Illinois, the 14th day of February, 1863.

WHEREAS, It is of the first importance to the great producing States of the Northwest, interested in the transportation of their various productions to the seaboard and to Europe, by the way of the great lakes and the rivers and canals connecting those lakes with the Atlantic Ocean, to secure to themselves the most enlarged and liberal avenues of communication possible, without reference to the fact whether such avenues are furnished by their own or another Government, provided they secure to said States and their people the greatest value for their productions at home, by transporting them to the markets of the world at the least cost and expense.

AND WHEREAS, From the recent action of the Congress of the United States, under a combination of circumstances as urgent as it is probable can ever again be brought to bear upon the question, that body declined to aid in opening such enlarged facilities as the necessities of the great food-producing West so imperiously demand;

AND WHEREAS, The capacity of these Northwestern producing States in the single staple, never failing and cheaply grown crop of Indian corn or maize, can scarcely be estimated, and would soon amount to hundreds of millions of bushels per annum, were enlarged and consequently cheap means of transportation provided, securing at once an income for the outlay, and a profit to the producer and consumer at home and abroad, and developing at the same time mines of wealth in our broad prairies, equal to the greatest happiness and desires of those who inhabit them;

AND WHEREAS, The rivers and canals of Canada can readily be improved and adapted to the most liberal means of transportation from the Western States to the Atlantic Ocean, and with mutual advantage to the constructor of such avenues, and all having occasion to avail themselves of them; furnishing, at the same time, the means of avoiding in a good degree, the heavy tolls and charges that now so enrich the State of New York, at the expense of the Western farmer.

Be it therefore resolved by the Senate of the State of Illinois, the House of Representatives concurring herein, That a State committee of five citizens of the State, be appointed by the Governor, with full power and authority on behalf of this State, to petition, or to proceed personally to the Provincial Government and Parliament of Canada, and to the Government of Great Britain, if deemed by them advisable, for the purpose, in any proper manner, of respectfully presenting to those Governments the statistics of production and trade of the Western States, seeking enlarged and cheaper outlets to the East and to Europe, for their products by the way of the lakes and of the rivers, and new or enlarged canals of Canada; and to respectfully solicit from said Governments all proper consideration and action upon a subject of such great and rapidly growing importance to them, as well as to the Western States, interested in such enlarged facilities of intercourse with the Atlantic ports and with Europe.

Resolved, That our neighboring States similarly interested, be, and are hereby respectfully invited to appoint like State committees to act and co-operate with the committee hereby appointed for the attainment of the objects herein set forth; and that the Governor be and is hereby requested, to send copies of this joint resolution and invitation to each of the States so interested, and to our Senators and Representatives in Congress, and to furnish an authenticated and official copy of the same to the committee hereby appointed, and that the preceding preamble and resolutions be printed for the greater convenience of so doing.

STATE OF INDIANA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Indianapolis, February 20, 1863. }

To the Senate of the State of Indiana:

I had the honor to receive a resolution adopted by your honorable body, which is in the words following, to wit:

Resolved, That the Governor be respectfully requested to transmit to the Senate a detailed statement of proceedings had in pursuance of an act entitled "An act to provide for the defense of the State of Indiana, to procure first-class arms, artillery, cavalry and infantry equipments and munitions of war, making the necessary appropriations therefor, and authorizing the Governor to borrow money," approved April 1, 1861, showing who were authorized as agent or agents, to make purchases for the State under said act, the compensation of such agent or agents, including the expenses for travel, transportation, &c., the number, character and price of arms, equipments and munitions purchased, and a statement in detail of the disposition made by the same specifying the number and amount transferred to and paid for, by the Federal Government, the number and amount distributed to the militia of this State, and yet in their hands, and the number and amount now in possession of the State, together with the amount of money borrowed; and the terms of such loan or loans, as authorized by said act.

It will be seen that this resolution is very comprehensive in its terms, embracing the purchase and distribution of State arms, the arming of the Indiana Legion, the operations of the State arsenal, and the disposition of ammunition therein prepared, the number and compensation of agents appointed to purchase arms, and the amount of money borrowed for that purpose.

The arms, including artillery, purchased by the State, were placed in the hands of Indiana troops mustered into the service of the United States, and their cost and expenses of purchase and transportation charged up to the United States.

The arms purchased by the State were of the first class and best quality, and it was due to our gallant soldiers, and important to the honor of the State, and the interest of the nation, that they should be put into the hands of men going into the field.

The arms that have been distributed to the Indiana Legion, and those now on hand in the State armory, were not purchased by the State, but are the property of the United States.

The agents appointed to purchase arms were Calvin Fletcher Esq., Miles J. Fletcher Esq., and the Hon. Robert Dale Owen, and John A. Bridgeland.

For an account of the purchase of State arms, and compensation of agents, and disposition made of them, distribution of arms to the Indiana Legion, ammunition prepared at the State arsenal, and disposition made thereof, number and quality of arms remaining in the armory, and amount of money borrowed under said act, your honorable body is respectfully referred to the reports of Quarter Master General Stone, Chief of Ordnance Col. Sturm, and the Hon. Robert Dale Owen, Miles J. Fletcher, the report of the Loan Commissioners heretofore transmitted, and other documents sent herewith.

In regard to the principal loan made for the purchase of arms, the following extract from a former message will fully explain :

"In the months of August and September last, the rebel army entered Kentucky, and the war was brought to our very border; the Ohio river was low, and could be forded in many places by cavalry, and even infantry, and the peace of the State was seriously threatened. In this emergency, I believed it to be my duty to purchase ten thousand superior arms, for the use of Indiana troops, and I sent an agent to New York, who succeeded in purchasing that number, of the first quality, at fair prices. Mr. D. R. Martin, President of the Ocean Bank, without requiring any security, and upon the credit of the State, advanced the money to pay for them, in all $237,269 30. Shortly after the purchase of the arms, the rebel forces were driven from Kentucky, the tide of war flowed back from our borders, and the danger so seriously threatening the State passed away. At that time we had in the State about 8,000 troops preparing for service, but who were unarmed, and no arms had been provided for them at all proper to be taken to the field. I therefore put these arms in their hands, upon a special agreement of the Government to pay for them at once. There was a delay of a few weeks in getting the warrant through the Departments at Washington, but the Government has now paid the principal, but not the interest; the officers of the Treasury alleging the want of authority to pay the interest."

The report of Quarter Master General Stone, will show that only 953 guns have been issued within the last six months, to counties not bordering on the Ohio river, and these guns have been issued to companies regularly organized under the law and upon requisitions made. All arms distributed to the Legion have been issued for the general defense and security of the State.

O. P. MORTON,
Governor of Indiana.

I am also directed to inform the Senate that Messrs. Niblack and Kilgore have been appointed as members of the Auditing Committee on the part of the House, and Mr. Speaker Buskirk has been added thereto as the third member of said committee on the part of the House by a Resolution of the House.

Mr. March submitted the following report :

MR. PRESIDENT :

The undersigned, together with Hon. Allen Hamilton, of the Senate, and Hon. James C. Veach, of the House, were, by joint resolution of the General Assembly, at its last session, appointed a committee to investigate and report upon the fiscal affairs of the State with power to examine the books, vouchers, and other papers in the several offices thereof, and with directions to report to the Governor, or to this General Assembly, so soon as the work should be completed. Having discharged the duties assigned them as fully as the condition of public affairs, and the great and all absorbing events through which we have been passing would permit, the committee ask leave to submit the following report :

A meeting of all the members of the committee was held at Indianapolis, in the month of ———, 1861, at which David C. Branham and Thomas Gifford of the House, and Walter March of the Senate were appointed to examine the affairs of the office of Agent of State. On account of other pressing public duties, Mr. Branham was unable to be present during the time agreed upon for the examination of the office of Agent of State. The other two members met at that office in the city of New York, on the 26th of August, 1861, and spent several days in examining its books, papers, and methods of business. Every attention and courtesy was shown them by the Agent, Colonel Hudson, and his clerk Mr. Gapin, and a commendable alacrity and zeal manifested in aiding the committee in their investigations. So far as the committee could judge from their limited opportunities, the books seem well and attentively kept, upon the plan adopted previous to the term of the present incumbent.

The important fact in connection with the office seemed to be to ascertain if possible the number of bonds outstanding for which the State is liable.

The office of Agent of State was created by act of the Legislature of January 28, 1842, abolishing the office of Fund Commissioner.

The duties previously performed by the Fund Commissioner were assigned to the Agent of State, "except that he had no power to execute, sell, deliver or hypothecate State bonds, for any purpose;" he was also authorized to take charge of the suspended debt of the State.

Mr. Michael G. Bright, the first incumbent of the office, made to the General Assembly, at its session of 1842-3, a long report of the result of his investigations in relation to the number of bonds issued and sold, the price sold for, and the amount of the suspended debt. Senate and House documents 1842-3.

Owing to the manner in which the bonds of the State were numbered and issued, and the records of the transactions of the Fund Commissioners had been kept, Mr. Bright, even at that early day, after long and laborious research, "was unable to make up a satisfactory bond account," and yet this report has been the main source of reference and information in all investigations.

In the opinion of the committee, it is impossible, at this time, to ascertain, with certainty the number of bonds issued and placed in market. The number of bonds authorized to be issued is easily ascertained, by reference to the several acts of the Legislature directing their issue; but it is well known, also, that the whole number authorized to be issued were not sold by the Fund Commissioners for the benefit of the State.

The several acts authorizing loans, and under which the bonds were issued, are as follows:

1. Act of 9th January, 1832, providing means for the construction of the Wabash and Erie Canal, authorized a loan of $200,000.

2. Act of 28th January, 1834, establishing a State Bank, was construed to authorize a loan of $1,390,000.

3. Act of 1st February, 1834, providing means for the construction of the Wabash and Erie Canal, authorized a loan of $400,000.

4. Act of 6th February, 1835, providing for the further prosecution of the Wabash and Erie Canal, and for other purposes, authorized a loan of $227,000.

5. Act of 27th January, 1836, to provide for a general system of internal improvements, and for finishing a portion of the Wabash and Erie Canal, authorized a loan of not exceeding $10,500,000.

6. Act of 17th February, 1838, to reimburse the State Bank for fourth installment of Surplus Revenue, loaned by the State, authorized a loan of that amount, $294,000.

7. Act of 19th February, 1838, to provide for finishing a portion of the Wabash and Erie Canal, authorized a loan of $400,000.

8. Act of February 6, 1839, making additional appropriations for the Madison and Lafayette Railroad, was construed to authorize a loan of $456,000.

9. Act of February 12, 1839, providing for the increase of the stock in the State Bank, authorized a loan of $5,000,000.

10. Act of 13th February, 1841, to provide for the appointment of a Fund Commissioner to collect the suspended debt of the State, authorizes a loan for the payment of interest, the bank debt, and the redemption of Treasury notes, not otherwise provided for.

In the report of Mr. Bright, before referred to, the whole number of bonds issued under these various acts, is stated to be 14,900.

In a report made to the joint committee of the Senate and House, of the session of 1859, by John H. Rea, Esq., who gave several months to the examination of this matter, the whole number of bonds issued is stated to be 15,140, making a difference in the two reports of 230 bonds.

The discrepancy is made up, in part, of thirty Wabash and Erie Canal bonds, which are supposed to have been illegally issued, though by whom, with what motive, or for what purpose, does not appear; and in part by two hundred 7 per cent. bonds, issued for the payment of interest.

No explanation is given of this discrepancy, nor has any been suggested to the committee, except that one report may include the whole number of bonds prepared, as shown by the register, and the other only those actually delivered.

The number of legal bonds outstanding, uncanceled, is stated in the last report of the late agent, to be three hundred and eighty-seven. This may be the correct number, and may not. Illegal bonds have undoubtedly got into circulation, and some of them may have been presented and cancelled by the agent of State, without their illegality being discovered. In the opinion of the committee, the only protection the State has against illegal bonds depends upon the integrity, vigilance and sagacity of the agent in detecting them when presented for cancellation, or payment of interest.

It is further the opinion of the committee that the office ought to be abolished as soon as practicable. It is the source of a large expense to the State, without conferring any corresponding benefit.

Owing to some provisions in the act of 1846 and 1847, for the adjustment of the State debt with the bond holders, it is deemed inexpedient, at this time, to abolish the office. Such an arrangement, however, ought to be made of the State debt as to admit of its abolition at the earliest day possible. On this subject the late agent has made some suggestions in his last report, well worthy of consideration.

Fidelity to the interest of the State compels the committee to refer briefly to another subject, however unpleasant the duty.

At the time the committee visited the office of the agent of State, the Stover fraud had been known to the agent for months. The committee had no knowledge of it whatsoever, nor was any disclosure or intimation made to them in relation to it by the agent or any other person. The first notice the committee had of it was long afterwards through the public newspapers.

The inquiries made by the committee of the agent, and of his clerk, were as pointed and as diligent as they well could be, without actual knowledge of the fraud.

The answers to all these inquiries, repeatedly made, were such as to give the committee the most perfect confidence and assurance that there was nothing wrong in connection with the transactions of the office.

In the opinion of the committee, this withholding from an in-investigating committee appointed by the Legislature of the State, facts and information of such grave importance was a great mistake, which could not be safely passed over unnoticed.

The committee do not call in question the motives of the Agent in taking this course, as it is not thought necessary, in order to protect the credit of the State.

But in the opinion of the committee, a prompt and full disclosure of such a transaction could not permanently injure the credit of the State as seriously as their concealment.

The State could not, under any circumstances, be made liable for these fraudulent bonds, without first sanctioning their issue and assuming their payment. In addition to the act already referred to, creating the office, the act of January 27, 1842, provides as follows :

That no Fund Commissioner, or other agent of the State, shall hereafter be authorized or allowed, under any circumstances whatever, to sell, hypothecate, or make any transfer of any State bond, or bonds whatever; and that any person or persons who may hereafter purchase, receive in hypothecation, or otherwise, from any such Fund Commissioner or other agent, any such bond or bonds, shall thereby have no lien upon the State of Indiana, or upon any of her rights or credits, but shall be left to look for payment entirely and exclusively to said Fund Commissioner, or other agent, in his or their individual capacity.

This prohibition is virtually repeated in the act of 1847, adjusting the State debt.

As this Legislature has authorized the appointment of a commissioner to investigate all matters in relation to the issue of these fraudulent bonds, the committee ask to be discharged from a further consideration of the subject.

On account of the many other duties imposed on this committee during the session, and the absence, at this time, of one of its members, who has charge of the papers containing the result of their investigations, the undersigned are unable to report on the other matters referred to them.

Very respectfully,

WALTER MARCH,
THOS. GIFFORD.

Mr. Ferguson submitted the following report, which was concurred in :

MR. PRESIDENT :

The committee appointed to wait upon His Excellency, the Governor, have performed that duty, and would respectfully report that His Excellency has informed us that he has no further communication to make to this General Assembly.

Mr. March submitted the following :

MR. PRESIDENT :

The select committee, to whom was referred House bill No. 54, a bill to authorize County Treasurers to offer lands delinquent for taxes for sale at the Auditor's office, have had the same under consideration, and direct me to report the same back, and recommend that it lie on the table, as, in the opinion of the committee, it would be in operation if enacted without further amendment.

Mr. Douglass offered the following, which was adopted.

Resolved, That Harry C. Ray, Clerk of the Committee on the Judiciary, be allowed sixty-one dollars for extra services during this session.

Mr. Browne of Randolph offered the following resolution, which was adopted :

Resolved, That James A. Dunning be allowed one hundred and eighty dollars for services as Clerk to President, in keeping accounts of members, &c.

Mr. Browne of Randolph moved that the Senate adjourn sine die, which, after a valediction by the President, was agreed to.

Attest:

S. R. HAMILL,
Assist. Secretary of the Senate.
